Caudle Says Clark's Order Halted Case

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18 (AP)—House investigators drew from T. Lamar Caudle today an account of how a wartime price violation case against a North Carolina lumberman was dropped by order of Tom Clark, now a Supreme court justice.

The case was dropped, Caudle said, after the lumberman hired Clyde R. Hony as his lawyer. Hony is now Senator from North Carolina and head of a Senate investigating committee.

The amiable, free-talking Caudle—fired from a top Justice department post by President Truman for outside activities—said the 1941 case involved a wealthy lumberman, T. C. Cox, from his home town of Wadesboro, N. C.

(Hony said at Wilmington, N. C. that he represented Cox as a private attorney, not holding public office, and believed prosecution was not justified.)

CAUDLE TESTIFIED also that a $297,991 income tax case against the lumberman never was prosecuted although the Bureau of Internal Revenue turned it over to the Justice department for action in 1948.

The witness, who headed the Justice department's tax division at that time, said he disqualified himself from the tax case. And the House judiciary subcommittee which was quizzing him didn't develop what did happen to the case.

Picturing himself as a country boy who found Washington full of pitfalls, and who couldn't get by on a $10,000 a year salary, Caudle repeated in open session some of

Guided Missiles Report Called Exaggerated

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18 (AP)—The Navy's director of guided missiles, Rear Adm. John H. Sides, threw some cold water today on a lower echelon report from Tokyo that the United States already has enough robot planes to launch a large-scale bombing attack.

Sides held a new conference at the Pentagon less than 24 hours after the Navy disclosed that some of these pilotless aircraft already have been launched successfully against North Korean targets.

Specifically, the Admiral said:

1.—"Just is not true" that this country has enough robot planes to launch large scale attacks. Lt. Cmdr. Lawrence A. Kurtz, director of the guided missiles program in Korea, had said a short time before that hundreds of robot planes are ready to mount a great bombing attack against the Communists.

2. THE NUMBER of obsolete Navy planes which have been converted to push-button bomb carriers has been greatly overestimated. Kurtz, in Tokyo, put the number at 1800. The project chief at the Pentagon said this figure should not be regarded as "sacred."

Sides went on to say, however,

Stores Benefit With Late Hours

Business was brisk, reported store proprietors who remained open last night until 9 o'clock because they will close early tonight due to the Jewish holidays.

Store owners further reported there was "quite a bit of traffic" after 7 o'clock. Last night and many said that business was "as good as anticipated."

Stores which remained open late last night will close at 6 p. m. today. They will remain closed all day tomorrow.

It is estimated that half the Jewish-owned businesses in the Pottstown area are altering their schedules because of the Rosh Hashanah (New Years) holiday.

THE WEATHER

For Eastern Pennsylvania: Showers and scattered thunderstorms today, followed by partly cloudy and becoming cooler by night. Tomorrow, fair and cool.

Trojans Open Season Tonight

King football will reign at Franklin field tonight.

Opposing Coach Heber T. Meyers' Pottstown High school Trojans will be Lansdale High, a 7-0 victim in the '51 inaugural.

With a potentially strong team, the Trojans rank as favorites in this home-and-away series that started on the Dales' gridiron the past season. The action will get underway at 8 o'clock, and with favorable weather school officials are prepared for a large crowd at the Junior High school field.

Meyers will start a veteran line and an untied backfield. His team will hold better than a ten-pound weight advantage against rookie Coach John Vinski's young and untied squad.

All-Chesmont league guard Bob Sutton and tackle Ron Downie have been named co-captains by Meyers for tonight's opener. These two will anchor a tough and mobile line that can boast of having had to men who played against the Dales the past season.

The backfield is a different story. Only quarterback Jim Kirk and Flip Smoyer, who is a probable starter, can boast of having played in 1951. Sophomores will play an important part in the Trojans' running game.

Six Pottstown seniors are listed as starters on the offensive unit. They are end Steve Chernesky, tackles Downie and Hal Rosenberger, guards Sutton and Bill Garrow, and halfbacks Jack Bechtel and Flip Smoyer.

Bechtel is another question mark on offense. He has left no doubts about his ability as a top-flight defensive end, a spot he excelled at the past year. But he is

When Pottstown High school's Trojans march to football on tonight there will be more (much more) than the menace and muscle antics of two gridiron teams. Edward E. O'Neill, choral director at the Senior High school, (left) has trained a squad of cheer leaders who are almost as talented as the boys. Two pigskin lovelies, Seniors Maria MacPhail (center) and Claudia Elicker (right) are ready for the opening "yea team."

Optimists Back Decorating Plan

The Pottstown Optimist club will sponsor Halloween store-window paintings by Junior High school pupils.

This announcement was made by Roland T. Brauch, spokesman for the group, who said President Leroy Keyser had appointed a committee to look into the details at last night's meeting.

According to Brauch, the window space is to be donated by merchants. Then, members of the Ninth grade art class will suggest designs with a Halloween theme. The ideas will be submitted to art teachers for approval before they go on the windows.

Brauch said that although painting store-windows with holi-

Encouraging enough, however, are the contributions to the Bobby Walters Fund which are still pouring in from Pottstown area children and grownups.

"I have ordered X-rays taken and we should know the results within a few days," the specialist said.

The lump was discovered first by Bobby's father, when the 4-year-old cancer and polio victim's parents visited the boy the past Sunday at the Sacred Heart hospital, Norristown.

DR. TEAHAN said the area has spread since he looked at it the past Tuesday. "It is about

New Parking Lot Proposed for Salvation Army

The Salvation Army heard a report on its proposed new parking lot at a luncheon meeting yesterday at 12:10 p. m. in the citadel. Earl R. Strange gave the report.

The Army now has a lot behind the citadel accommodating 50 cars. It formerly had a dirt surface, but was macadamized about two months ago before Capt. Robert Flinn took command of the Pottstown citadel.

The board also heard an informal account of the headquarters program from Capt. Raymond Wilson, of the Philadelphia headquarters.

Captain Flinn, head of the Pottstown citadel, gave the invocation, after which lunch was served. The meal was provided by the women's auxiliary. Mrs. George Leh, chairwoman.

Morse Calls Taft Substitute Quarterback But Says Eisenhower Is Head as of Now

NEW YORK, Sept. 18 (AP)—Sen. Wayne Morse, Oregon's restless Republican, criticized Sen. Robert A. Taft today as a "substitute quarterback," leading the GOP towards defeat. But he said that as of now Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower "is head."

Morse told the AFL's 71st annual convention that Taft had emerged as a campaign signaller and that this "starts the team running in the opposite direction away from a touchdown and toward a defeat."

He depicted the Ohio Republican as "a dazed one called back into the game out of the showers—the substitute quarterback now calling Republican signals and well known for his political fumbles."

The AFL delegates rocked with laughter and applause at many points in his speech. Dale-

Dr. L. Y. Lechner Dies at His Home In Bechtelsville

A Bechtelsville physician, who had practiced medicine 57 years, the past 54 in Bechtelsville, died last night at his home at the age of 81.

Dr. Leroy Y. Lechner, in ill health the past three years, began practicing in Bechtelsville before the turn of the century. In that period, covering a 20-mile radius, he delivered over 4000 babies.

Three years ago, Dr. Lechner was forced to restrict his activities to office calls, but these he maintained until the day of his death.

Son of the late Charles and Susan (Yahn) Lechner, he was born in Worman, Earl township, and was twice married. His first wife was the former Alice Bechtel, whom he married in 1898, the year he opened an office in Bechtelsville. She died two years later.

IN 1902, Dr. Lechner married the former Mayme Beck, who died the past February.

The last member of his family, Dr. Lechner is survived only by nephews and nieces.

Dr. Lechner was noted in the area for the large role he played in numerous civic and social organizations throughout his life.

He was a member of the Trinity Lutheran church, Bechtelsville; the Keystone Fire (Continued on Page Fourteen)

Showers Come As Refresher

An early shower refreshed Pottstown this morning.

At 11:30 o'clock last night the first harbinger of the storm appeared in black western skies. Thunder rumbled in the distance and sporadic flashes of lightning lit the inky atmosphere.

By 12:30 a.m. the first rain dampened thorough streets and a few minutes past 1 o'clock the rains came in strength.

The temperature rose to a humid 82 yesterday afternoon, and hung in the mid-70's at midnight.

At 1 o'clock the mercury began to descend.

There will be scattered thunder showers today and it will be cooler tonight. Tomorrow will be fair and cool.

School Board Holds Fast in Building Plan

Pottstown school directors yesterday re-raised the question of financing the new $300,000 West End school through a State-controlled rather than a local authority, turned the question over carefully, then put it down again.

The target date for completion of the 12-room elementary school had been September, 1953, but yesterday directors conceded it was very unlikely that however the school was financed and built, it could be completed before mid-winter of 1953.

On the financing question, the directors voted unanimously to stand by the decision made at their regular meeting the past Sept. 8.

They decided then to finance the school through a "municipal" authority, and to decide later whether this would be the existing borough authority set up the past year to build the sewer plant, or a new authority set up entirely by the board.

HAROLD E. BINDER, school district solicitor, said he would check before next month's meeting to see whether members of the existing authority had any objection to having it modified to take on the additional job of financing the new 12-room elementary school.

Principal reasons advanced against the State authority idea were:

1. It probably would cost the school district more than a municipal authority would.
2. The school board probably would have less influence with a State authority than it would with

Nurses Group Plans to Stock Sickroom Items

A plan to stock a "loan closet" of sickroom supplies for families in the Pottstown area was announced yesterday by the Visiting Nurse organization.

Valeria B. Anastasia, chairman of the committee in charge of the new project, said Oct. 9 has been set as a Donation day for service groups and individuals to present items on a list drawn up by the organization.

A Donation day tea to bring the sickroom supplies together will be held at the YWCA Oct. 9 from 3 p. m. to 4 p. m. Those unable to attend can take their contributions to the Visiting Nurse office in the YWCA or have them picked up by notifying that office.

The chairman suggested that organizations could present either a single gift, such as a folding wheel chair, or individual gifts from the list. Cash donations are (Continued on Page Fourteen)

Police Continue Investigation of Mystery Bullet

SOURCE of a bullet which passed into a Lower Pottsgrove residence Wednesday night remained a mystery last night.

Harry Chrusch, Lower Pottsgrove township police chief, reported, "There's nothing new on the case. I'm still investigating."

Chrusch rushed to the home of John Heidenreich, Sanatoga Station road, when he was called Wednesday night about 8:30 o'clock. He arrived ten minutes after the bullet crashed into the Heidenreich kitchen.

Shirley Heidenreich, 15, a pupil at Pottstown Senior High school, was seated at a table in the kitchen when the bullet struck. Her father, John, was standing at the sink when the bullet hit the (Continued on Page Seven)

Collegeville Pair Injured in Crash

A Collegeville couple was injured early last night in a two-car collision at Routes 73 and 113, Skippack township.

Mr. and Mrs. James Rowan, 116 Second avenue, Collegeville, were treated for slight injuries in Montgomery hospital, Norristown, and discharged.

They were rushed from the accident scene in a Montgomery hospital ambulance.

Rowan sustained a cut of the left ear and his wife suffered minor cuts of both arms.

THE ROWANS' late model convertible collided with a 1951 sedan at the heavily-traveled intersection a few minutes before 7 o'clock.

Paul Pulcher, 18, Skippack, was driving his aqua-green sedan south on Route 73 when the collision occurred. Mrs. Rowan was driving the black convertible west on Route 113.

Pulcher was uninjured. The front ends of both automobiles were damaged heavily. They were towed to the garage of George Chirano, Skippack village.

Jeffersonville State police investigated.

Two Men Hurt As Their Cars Crash Head-on

LELAND S. BUCKMASTER

Buckmaster Is Re-Elected Head of URW

ASBURY PARK, N. J., Sept. 18.—Leland S. Buckmaster, Akron, Ohio, president of the CIO United Rubber workers, led his slate to victory by acclamation today.

The 58-year-old representative of Firestone Local 7, Akron, was re-elected for his eighth one-year term.

Slated for convention agenda today is a speech by Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, Minnesota Democrat.

Tentatively scheduled for tonight is a closed session of the international policy committee. The committee will attempt to work out a multi-point contract with the Firestone, Tire and Rubber company.

Pottstown Local 336, United Rubber Workers (CIO), and the Akron local voted against the firm-wide contract. The firm's other six plants voted for the pact, but the Akron and Pottstown locals represent a majority of the Firestone membership.

A young Pottstown man suffered possible concussion of the brain last night when the car he was driving met in a head-on collision with another automobile on Route 422 in Limerick. The other driver also was injured.

Edward Mitchell, 20, of 416 1/2 Lincoln avenue, was headed west on the highway when the accident occurred at approximately 11:30 p. m. The driver of the other car, Harry Hause, 45, of Parkland, Bucks county, was driving in the opposite direction.

Jeffersonville State Police Officer James Capparell and John Flannery, investigating the accident, reported both cars "demolished" as a result of the smash-up.

Both men were taken to Memorial hospital where doctors, after preliminary examinations, said Mitchell had a possible brain concussion and deep cuts of the right knee which "very possibly could be fractured," they said.

HAUSE was found to have a fractured lower right leg and to be suffering from shock. Hospital authorities declined to comment further on the condition of the two men until X-rays are taken today.

State Police Officer Capparell stated that the details of how the accident happened were unknown to him, and since both men were not in condition to relate the circumstances, he was going to have to return today for a fuller investigation.

Drivers of the Trappe Community ambulance which took the victims to the hospital were Gunnar Rambo and William Brimmer.

Dental Clinic To Be Returned

The Pottstown public school dental clinic will be brought back to the schools, it was indicated by action taken yesterday by the school board.

In recent years, most of the clinic work was done in the office of Dr. J. W. Armstrong, who was replaced this year as school dentist by Dr. Harry W. Brennecke.

Dr. George A. McCormick reported to the board that Dr. Brennecke had estimated it would take approximately $700 to re-establish the clinic that had been in Washington school.

This would buy needed equipment that would be serviceable but not new or elaborate, he reported. The board voted unanimously to have the superintendent and dentist go ahead and make preliminary arrangements for purchasing the equipment.

Wet Streets Get Blame for Crash

Wet streets and heavy rain were blamed for a car-cab collision early this morning at High and Charlotte streets.

James L. Undercoffler, driver of the Harry's cab, was heading south on Charlotte street when the accident occurred.

Norman A. Bausch, Reading, who was heading east on High street, destination Philadelphia, in a gray 1948 sedan, collided with the Undercoffler cab on the slick street at 2 o'clock.

Both men claimed they had the green light. Damage to the cab included the right front fender, hood, grill, bumper and lights. Damage to the Reading car included the left front fender, wheel and steering.

As the year 5713 emerges from the season of endings under the Jewish people raises its voice in prayer to implore God Almighty, the Father of all humanity, to let this new year become a turning point towards world-peace and a better future for all.

May He, in His eternal grace, let us do everything to make disappear from the earth that mental blindness which, in worshipping nature, has made the darkest passions of hatred and persecution the guiding law of human actions in many parts of the world.

May the divine spirit of brotherly equality continue to imbue our country with the irresistible spirit of wise co-operation and true progress.

And may our Father in Heaven protect all the inhabitants of our town so that they may never cease from building their lives on the unshakable foundations of spiritual happiness and unclouded prosperity.

ARCTIC GALES BUFFET SHIPS

Allied Carrier Fleet
Hit by Atlantic Winds;
Crimp Put in Maneuvers

ABOARD THE U.S.S. WASP ON OPERATION MAINBRACE, Sept.
17.—Arctic gales buffeted the huge carrier fleet in the northeast Atlantic today and put a crimp in the maneuvers called Operation Mainbrace.

Winds up to 55 miles an hour swept mountainous seas over the heads of the U. S. Navy carriers midway. Franklin D. Roosevelt and also, flooding flight decks normally more than 50 feet above water.

The Midway's steel hangar curtain was smashed, exposing planes within. A catwalk aboard the Wasp was torn away. Some staterooms were flooded.

The carrier force, part of a force of 160 vessels of eight nations taking part in war games ranging from northern Norway to Denmark, is moving north when the storm broke. After bucking the wind for hours, most of the vessels turned out to wait a break in the weather and operations were temporarily suspended.

PART OF the force, including the British carriers Eagle and Illustrous, headed for Trondheim, where desegregators will refuel.
Adm. Sir Patrick Brind, in charge of Operation Mainbrace, at his Oslo headquarters by plane Bodo to inspect the closing stages of the maneuvers along the northern Norwegian coast.

The day's communique from Bodo said "the situation in northern Norway has now been stabilized."

Carrier-based planes, flying over the seas, hammered simulated enemy positions in the Bodo and Trondheim areas after a grueling live bombardment last night of a strategic point in the Lofoten islands.
Allied warships. Referees ruled that enemy forces entrenched on the island of Hell's peak were destroyed.

ern. Sparkman Says
Republicans Forget
Southern Business

TALLAHASSEE, Fla., Sept. 18.—
Senator John Sparkman said last night Republicans "forget that the South must be allowed to develop its fair share of business instead of being held as the economic prisoner of the North."

The Democratic vice presidential candidate from Alabama, in an address prepared for delivery in Florida's state capital, said Florida has benefited economically more than other parts of the nation from 20 years of his party's administration. He cited the state's disproportionately rapid growth.

Hitting at the Republican claim that "it's time for a change," Sparkman said southerners "fully understand what change—deep, genuine change—can mean."

"We know that change must be for the better and not for the worse. We did not like the kind of change the Republicans brought between 1929 and 1932."

"WE KNOW that change must come to all people alike—to the farmer, the working man and the small businessman as well as to the industrial tycoon. We know that change which means that the rich get richer and the poor get poorer cannot long be good for anybody."

"And there we have the secret of the difference between Republican-style change, which resulted in the great depression, and Democratic change which has brought this nation to unparalleled prosperity and power."

He said the prosperity which Republicans want is the "same old 29-style Republican prosperity."

The light of the full moon is only out half a millionth of that from the noonday sun.

Customers, Workers Escape as Store Collapses

Damage estimated at $25,000 results when the side of a woman's ready-to-wear clothing store collapses in Rocky Mount, N. C., after its foundation gives way. A new building is under construction next door. About a score of customers and employees escaped before the roof fell in.

Phoenixville Man's Body Recovered

PHOENIXVILLE, Sept. 18.—
The body of Arthur Moore, 35, whose soldier son was killed in a brawl in Regensburg, Germany, the past February, was recovered
today in a creek near his home.

Chester county Deputy Coroner
Cooper T. Bishop Jr., said Moore died of drowning. Police Chief Fred K. MacInnis said, however, he was "keeping the investigation open."

MacInnis said Moore purchased a restaurant about six weeks ago, but never opened the place for business.

The police said Moore's son,
Corp. William T. Moore, 23, was killed in a brawl while serving with Company G, 3rd battalion, in the 6th Army.

The body of Arthur Moore was discovered by Frank Mastrangelo, an employee of the Phoenix Iron and Steel company. The creek path is through the company's property.

Hearing Waived by Man On Disorderly Charge

William Russell, 107 Chestnut

Mary Pickford Insists On Technicolor Return

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 18.—Mary Pickford today insisted that her first movie role in 20 years.
The aging sweetheart of the screen gave as the reason.
"Circle of Fire," with a letter stating:
"Since the decision not to make
'Circle of Fire' in technicolor, I have been very unhappy and very much disturbed. I do feel that after this long absence from the screen, my return should be in a technicolor production."

Pottstown Portraits

A Quick Look at Your Neighbor

By LARRY DAVIS

IT'S an interesting and fascinating job—helping people solve their problems which come from having pets.

In these words, Paul F. Kilburn, Pottstown pet shop proprietor, sums up his feelings after six years in business here. Dealing in pets and pet supplies is a distant departure from his earlier years when he was a salesman, promotion manager and industrial management consultant.

But Kilburn admits frankly that he is thoroughly satisfied and happy among the pets he has in his shop at Chestnut and York streets. He especially enjoys his two Manchester terriers that strut with sleek aloofness about the place, and a salmon-and-bacon-eating poll parrot which talks like a human being answering the telephone.

He likewise has a particular interest in tropical fish which, he says, are becoming a growing hobby among residents of the Pottstown area. In the past two months, he has supplied between 30 and 60 aquariums to neophyte fish fanciers.

"More and more people," he points out, "are living in homes or apartments where dogs or cats are not the most desirable pets. So, these people are turning to the colorful tropicals."

Kilburn's interest in animals began many years ago when his wife, Margaret, became a breeder of doberman-pinchers. Since then, he has acquired a deep insight into the animal world.

"I sometimes think," he muses, "that animals have as much sense as human beings."

Kilburn was born in Altoona in 1901 and was an only child. His father, Edward, was a master woodworker who had begun his trade as a builder of mousetraps. In succession, the elder Kilburn made railroad cars in the Altoona yards, built carriage bodies at Lancaster, and then made auto bodies for the famed Derham Body company at Rosemont, near Bryn Mawr.

After beginning his education in Lancaster, Kilburn moved to Bryn Mawr with his parents and was graduated from Lower Merion High school.

In 1917, his mother, Mrs. Sarah Kilburn, started the school lunch program at Lower Merion and is still working today in the same line. School lunches in those days were unheard of in other nearby communities.

Following his completion of High school, Kilburn studied at the Wharton School of Finance and Commerce and was graduated in 1924. For two years at Wharton, he was the boys' work director for the Bryn Mawr Community center.

His business life began with the Whitman Candy company for which he was a wholesale salesman. His travels brought him to Pottstown where he came to know Samuel Porter, Rudolph Green, Roy Dentler, Daniel Bause and Charles Bentz, all drug store proprietors.

After five years on the road selling candy, he became a salesman for the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron company until the depression of 1933.

"That's when all sales promotion stopped and the apple cart upset," he recalls.

A year later he went to work as manager of the State Liquor store at Norristown for eight years. He and his wife then purchased a 92-acre farm off Route 13 at Shanesville.

He worked a year at Jacobs Aircraft Engine company, a year making incendiary bombs at Elkhart, Ind., and then became associated with a New York firm of management consultants.

Six years ago, he decided to do what he most wanted: start a pet shop.

"It's the kind of work you do because you like it, not because you'll ever make any money in it," he says.

Kilburn has been a volunteer fireman most of his life, and in Pottstown he is a member of the Goodwill company where he has been treasurer for two years and an extra driver for three years.

MRS. MARGARET R. BEGEL, 17 West Eighth street, is probably one among a few women in Pottstown who are more comfortable in a pair of coveralls than they are in a crisp house dress.

For the past five years, off and on, she has been her husband's full time attendant in their service station at 1550 High street. As such, the five-foot-two-inch brunette does more than pump gas. She fixes flats, washes and polishes cars, helps reline brakes and once tore an engine apart to see what goes on inside it.

Mrs. Begel, variously referred to as "Meg," "Maggie," or "Marge" by customers who know her, has a fascination for hard work.

"If I didn't," she admits with a winning smile, "I wouldn't be there."

The prospect of a seven-day week doesn't seem to bother her, even when those days are 10 hours long. The simple explanation is that she has worked hard most of her life, partly by choice and partly by circumstance.

The circumstance began in Lehighton where she was born Margaret Mary Reed on July 17, 1918, the second oldest in a family of three boys and two girls. After completing elementary school, she entered high school but left to help support the family. Her first job was as a forelady in a shirt factory where she supervised a crew of 14 pressers.

Her working by choice followed her marriage on May 30, 1936 at Mauch Chunk after a two year courtship which began, significantly enough, at a filling station.

Her husband drove truck for a freight company, both local and long distance hauls, and on over-the-road trips she became his relief driver.

Frequently they made runs together to Connecticut and as far south as Virginia Beach, adding considerable confusion to the lives of those who never before had seen a lady truck driver.

When her husband was employed by the Bethlehem Steel company at Bethlehem at the outbreak of World War II, she gave up work for several years to devote her time to her home and to raising their daughter, Jan, now 15.

But when the war ended, and Begel came to Pottstown to work in the service station owned by his uncle, Jesse Begel, he went back to work as hotel cook in Spinnerstown. Her husband took over his uncle's business in 1947, brought his family to Pottstown and built the home they presently occupy.

Still wanting to keep busy, Mrs. Begel clerked in a local grocery and jerked sodas for Frank Rosenberry on Farmington avenue until her husband gave in and permitted her to work at the service station.

Customer reaction to her servicing cars is mixed. Those who know her pass off the experience without a notice. But when transient's pull in, their mouths may open in surprise.

Says her husband of her accomplishments: "She's the best helper I could find anywhere."

Monday nights the Begel home may sway a bit on its foundation when daughter Jan puts an 11-piece accordion band through its paces.

A tenth grader at Pottstown High, Jan started taking lessons six years ago at the behest of her mother who always wanted to play but never learned and her dad (who once played French horn in the Lehighton band).

Jan is still taking lessons, but the past January she assembled a group of youthful accordionists and has been coaching them ever since. And it's right fancy music they create.

On the go most of the time, Mrs. Begel is assisted in the housework by her mother, Mrs. Clara Deitz. The household also includes a toy Manchester named "Tallie" and a toy terrier named "Sallie," otherwise referred to as "the thundering herd."

Mrs. Begel once did fancy roller skating. Those days are gone for the green-eyed, 122-pounder who now enjoys a quiet game of cards with her husband and friends.

Road Blocks Raised In Pittsburgh Area For 3 Desperados

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 18 (P)—Police in the Pittsburgh district threw up road blocks tonight after an unidentified motorist reported seeing three men resembling the desperados who broke out of the Federal penitentiary at Lewisburg Pa. Sept. 9.

Sgt. Arthur C. Wood of the Greensburg barracks of the Pennsylvania State police, said the motorist reported seeing the men traveling in a blue Henry J. sedan on Route 22 about 12 miles east of Pittsburgh.

Wood said the report was made to a Pennsylvania State trooper on the turnpike. The motorist stopped the police car and reported seeing the men "about a half hour ago."

A general broadcast was sent out by State police alerting all police in the Pittsburgh area. Sgt. Wood described the action as routine adding:

"This will have to be checked out before we can say much about it."

THE THREE escaped convicts all serving time for bank robbery are reported armed and dangerous.

They have been reported sighted in numerous parts of four States since they scaled a prison wall and fled. They are:

Joseph Wayne Nolan, 26, and his brother Ballard French Nolan, 22, both of Harlan county, Ky., and Elmer Schuer, 21, of Chicago.

Tells Mother

Unruffled while his mother, Mrs. Zulma Sylvester, sobbed in Detroit, Arthur Gietzen tells police he killed his sleeping father, Aloysius F. Gietzen, 51, with a .38 caliber pistol to end a life of steady bickering. Arthur had lived with his father after the father and mother separated 20 years ago. The father had reared all eight children.

Active in community affairs until finally restricted to his home, Dr. Lechner served on the Bechtelsville town council for six years and for many years functioned as the deputy coroner. In World War II he served on the civil defense council.

DR. LECHNER was a graduate of both the Kutztown State Normal school and the Jefferson Medical school, Philadelphia. He practiced in Sassamansville for three years before moving on to his permanent office at Bechtelsville.

Services, in charge of a funeral home at 111 Reading avenue, Boyertown, were incomplete last night.

a local one.

The solicitor said arguments to the State authority were:

1. There would be a little less red tape involved than there would with a local authority.

2. The State experts might be able to hurdle technical problems more easily than an inexperienced local group could.

THE BOARD had dismissed the State authority on Sept. 8. It was re-elected by the trip of Dr. George A. McCormick, superintendent of schools to Harrisburg and then by a discussion in Pottstown among the solicitors, his board-member brother, Carl M. Bender and Russell Bartman, head of the State authority.

The Bender brothers gave the board the complicated details of the authorities.

William H. Yohn led the questioning. "Would one get it started more quickly than the others?"

No, said the solicitor.

Yohn asked which would be more expensive.

The solicitor said it's a gamble, but the odds are on the municipal authority, mon ewise.

Continuing their efforts to keep the problem on a bipartisan basis, the Republican members asked H. Clifford Cieswell, lone Democrat present for his opinion. "I sort of favor the local authority," he replied.

THE SOLICITOR said he doubted whether the existing borough authority would object either to taking on the school job or to have the school board appoint additional members to this authority.

He pointed out that one member of the five member authority, William H. McCabe, is a borough school teacher and that another, Elmer E. Saylor, is a former school director.

The school discussion ended with the raising of complicated questions about the title to the land north of Penn Village where the school will be built and about having streets around the school vacated.

The solicitor said these problems will take weeks to solve but probably would not interfere with construction of the school.

MORSE VS. TAFT

now—to the extent that I have expressed it in the speech."

Morse commented to the news men of Eisenhower's chances in November.

"As of now I think General Eisenhower is ahead."

EISENHOWER SPOKE to the AFL convention only yesterday backing the Taft-Hartley law but urging that it be amended.

In his convention address, Morse called Eisenhower's speech ill advised and confusing in parts. But he told the AFL he was willing to "rest my case" behind Eisenhower's proposal to amend rather than repeal Taft-Hartley.

"It will then be an academic question," Morse continued, "as to whether or not the law as it presently stands has not in fact been repealed."

The AFL received Eisenhower's Taft-Hartley proposal coolly. The 18,000,000 member labor group has demanded all out repeal of the law.

They are expected to endorse Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson, the Democratic presidential candidate, who also favors outright repeal.

George Harrison, an AFL vice president, told a news conference during the day that a majority of the AFL's executive committee has joined a new group known as "labor's national committee for Stevenson and Sparkman."

Although Harrison said the new committee has no CIO representatives, it seemed in some respects to be a counterpart of the CIO's Political Action Committee.

A host of Democrats have gone before the AFL convention since Monday to lambast the Taft-Hartley law. The latest of these was Sen. Herbert H. Lehman (D. N.Y.) who said today the act "must and will" be repealed.

PRICE CASE

the testimony he has given the committee—which is investigating the Justice department—at closed hearings recently.

Often his free flowing answers poured out in a ripe Southern accent brought laughter. But they also brought big names into the inquiry.

One name was that of David K. Niles, former White house assistant. Caudle said Niles called him repeatedly to make appointments for World War II conscientious objectors who faced prosecution for refusing to be drafted.

Rep. Keating (R-N.Y.) declared this was White house pressure with a capital P.

Tom Clark's name too cropped up repeatedly in the testimony.

CAUDLE SAID he and the then attorney general once sat up until 4 a. m. at Clark's home studying FBI files on the case of the disputed ballots stolen from a dynamited safe in the Kansas City vote fraud scandal of 1948.

The heat went off in the building. Caudle related and we sat there on the floor wrapped in blankets. When I got up I was so stiff I could hardly stand.

The reason they were so interested in the files was that a Senate investigation of the vote scandal—and of the Government's failure to arrest anybody—was about to start.

Caudle said that after the investigation the files on the case were taken from his office—he was head of the Criminal division then—and the further investigation was handled by Clark and his special assistant, Peyton Ford.

But Caudle was assigned to another job usually regarded as a better one—chief prosecutor of tax frauds.

Asked if he thought this was a reward for good work on the Kansas City investigation, he chuckled.

"No sir there was too much criticism of it. It wasn't a good job."

GUIDED MISSILES

that the Tokyo statement might have been intended to refer to all types of drone and target planes modified by the Navy for training and experimental purposes.

The Admiral said further that the military services have many types of advanced missiles under development and that the use of old planes, re-equipped as radio controlled robots in Korea was a stopgap measure.

The Washington Tokyo confusion on these points wasn't the first confusion to arise from the guided missile development.

The Navy is investigating the use of classified information in some news dispatches which reported last night the first use of pilotless bombers against enemy targets in Korea.

Navy officials said that so far as they could determine the only dispatch submitted for censorship clearance either in Washington or in Tokyo was an eye witness account by Associated Press photographer Fred Waters for the launch of the first such missile.

Waters' story dated Sept. 1 aboard the Carrier Boxer was held up by censorship in the Far East. It then was submitted for review at the Pentagon yesterday.

It was cleared for publication with deletions.

Later the deletions in Waters' story were restored on information from the Navy that another news story in circulation which contained details on the pilotless bombers that had been stricken from Waters' account on security grounds.

United States Officially Unwraps Fantastic Air Base in the Arctic

THULE, Greenland, Sept. 18 (AP)—The United States took official secrecy wraps today off its fantastic Arctic air base. A brood of jet interceptors already are using the still unfinished Thule airdrome, perched almost at the frozen top of the world.

Officials also put a price tag on the project—an estimated 263 million dollars. Col. Robert W. Humphreys, commander of Thule, said 185 millions have been appropriated so far; by the end of the construction year (now nearing) 155 millions will have been spent.

Thule Air Force base and its operations installations cover 90,000 acres in a great, sprawling amphitheater matted of the back by the rim of the Greenland ice cap, fronted by a fjord opening on Baffin bay. It can handle the biggest strategic bombers of swiftest landing jet fighters existent or planned.

Beating the problem of eternal polar cold and flint-hard ground, constructors have put down miles of paving for runways, and built hangars, machine shops and housing. A 1200-foot radio tower keeps the strategic forward air base in touch with Washington and other lines in the chain of American defenses.

HEAVY BOMBERS like the B-36 or the all-jet B-52 now in production could use this base as a stepping stone for long strides deep into Eurasia. Facilities for supply are in abundance.

Two heavy maintenance hangars, where the biggest planes can be taken in out of the frigid cold for service or repair, were finished during the urgent first year of construction. Four more are going up now with workmen racing against the oncoming winter.

An air of urgency hangs over all the effort—a race against time to be ready for possible attack and a more immediate race to beat the second winter since the project began.

Building a runway is an engineer's nightmare. There is the permafrost, soil frozen rock-hard as deep as 1600 feet below the earth's surface. If stayed congealed at the surface, engineers would be happy. But it thaws three to five feet. Piling can't be driven into the permafrost. Excavations must be made, then the piles dropped in and frozen in position.

To build the huge runways, excavations six feet deep are carved in the tundra, then a series of rock and gravel "non-frost acting material" layers laid before the black-top surface is put down. That costs money and takes time.

THE BUILDINGS are "inside out refrigerators"—heavily insulated fabrications of aluminum and wall-board to keep the Arctic cold from stealing in.

What salaries are paid construction men? Lt. Col. Austin J. Hall, Army engineer in charge of construction, says the maximum rate for skilled workers like power shovel and crane operators is $4.20 an hour, with time and half for overtime beyond 40 hours a week.

These men work ten-hour daily shifts seven days a week, so their salaries are high. Project managers get $8 an hour, also with the overtime provisions. The minimum rate for unskilled labor is $2.67 an hour.

Dutch Bus Driver Finds Himself at Home in N. Y.

NEW YORK, Sept. 18 (AP)—To-day's out-of-the-frying-pan-into-the-fire note.

Jan Van Gent, 32, a Dutch bus driver, arrived from Holland to change places for one month with George E. Brennan, 44, who drives a New York bus along a Broadway-42nd street route.

Their respective companies arranged the exchange. Van Gent said the worst thing about his Dutch passengers is that sometimes they don't have their fare ready.

Brennan said Van Gent will feel right at home here.

Sudden Rain Causes Panic in Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 18 (AP)—A brief but heavy thunderstorm drenched the city with a half inch of rain in 12 minutes today, trapping an estimated 100 persons in a tiny vestibule where a subway concourse escalator rises into the City Hall courtyard.

The jam developed because those at the head of the line balked at stepping out into the heavy rain.

At least two persons were injured in the crush as people were fed into the 8 by 10 foot vestibule by the moving escalator.

The storm struck at the height of the morning rush hour.

Joseph Prachtel said he was trying to protect a crippled man near him, when both fell and were trampled by the surging mass of humanity.

British Official Holds Secret Talks in Germany

BERLIN, Sept. 18 (AP)—British Defense Minister Earl Alexander held top-secret talks tonight with Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's military advisers.

Earl Alexander flew here from north Germany, where he has been observing Allied maneuvers.

The process known as "cracking" obtains approximately twice as much gasoline from a barrel of crude oil as was formerly obtained by straight distillation.

Prachtel said, "It was 10 minutes of terror."

Finally the shoving crowd, carried up by the moving stairs, leaned forward with such force that the doors of the vestibule swung open and enough people pushed outside to relieve the crush.

Railway Order To Ike Denied By President

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18 (AP) — had two telephone conversations with President Truman today sharply disputed a report that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower was ordered to Washington in 1946 to take command of railway strikers about to be drafted into the Army to keep trains running.

The President told a news conference that he certainly didn't ask Eisenhower, then Army chief of staff, to take over the rail operation chore. And to his knowledge, he added, no other official did.

In 1946 Truman asked Congress for power to draft the strikers into the Army. The strike was settled about the time he made his request. The legislation he proposed was not enacted.

The Truman comments were made in connection with a story in today's New York Times quoting associates of the Republican presidential candidate as revealing that in a talk with Truman he threatened to resign as chief of staff in May, 1946, if forced to act as a "strike-breaker."

Economic Protection Promised Farmers By Gen. Eisenhower

OMAHA, Sept. 18 (AP) — GOP presidential nominee Dwight D. Eisenhower promised the nation's farm voters tonight that a Republican administration will give farmers economic protection "with or without them in Federal chains."

And he proposed establishing an "improved farm credit system, directed by a board to be chosen by farmers themselves, to form credit policies and "to see that sound credit operations will not be endangered by partisan political influence."

"We will remove the Federal domination now imposed on the farm credit system," he said. Ending a busy day of whistle-stopping across Iowa and Nebraska, Eisenhower declared a better future for farmers depends on getting rid of what he called "a tired administration" in Washington.

"THE TRUTH is," he said, "that the present Administration is trying to shut us off on detours that lead not to freedom of opportunity, but to the strictest kind of regimentation."

World News Briefs

Debt Paid Off

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Sept. 18 (AP) — A gleaming "golden schooner" as turned over to Russia tonight by Finland in the final payment of the $70 million dollar war reparations bill the Soviet imposed on the Finns.

The schooner is so-called for its many fittings of shining brass and copper and for the symbolism of its treasure wrung out of Finland by Russian dictate.

This was the last of 91 Finnish-uilt ships turned over to Russia, the Finns don't owe a ship or ruble to Moscow.

The big bill was presented by Russia in 1944 to punish Finland for her ill-fated attempt to recapture Finnish territory the Soviets seized in a previous attack.

Soldier Testifies

BAMBERG, Germany, Sept. 18 (AP) — A 26-year-old Pennsylvania soldier testified in his own defense today that he signed a statement admitting the knife slaying of a German woman after Army criminal investigation agents prevented our stumbling into another world war.

Eisenhower also is better qualified to reduce military spending after the end of the Korean War and to reduce taxes, Byrnes declared.

COUNTRY LOYALTY IS FIRST

Byrnes to Vote for Eisenhower

COLUMBIA, S. C., Sept. 18 (AP) — Gov. James F. Byrnes, a life-long Democrat, announced today he will vote for Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower for president.

"I shall place loyalty to my country above loyalty to a political party," Byrnes told a news conference at his State house office here.

Byrnes, a former secretary of state and U. S. Senator, told the State Democratic convention here Aug. 6 that at that time he would have voted for Democrat Adlai Stevenson "with some misgivings."

He said then he reserved the right to determine later who would get his vote.

"If YOU want more of the Truman Administration," Byrnes said in his prepared statement today, "you should vote for General Eisenhower."

Byrnes also said he thinks Eisenhower "could do more than any living American to bring about an end to the war in Korea and prevent our stumbling into another world war."

Eisenhower also is better qualified to reduce military spending after the end of the Korean War and to reduce taxes, Byrnes declared.

"When Governor Stevenson was nominated," Byrnes recalled, "because I preferred to support the national Democratic ticket and because of my personal regard for him, it was my hope he would disassociate himself from the policies of the present Administration. He has not done so."

"Should Governor Stevenson be elected," Byrnes continued, "he would be under great obligation to President Truman, to the labor leaders, the Americans for Democratic Action and other pressure groups. Mr. Truman and the leaders of these groups will call upon Mr. Stevenson to retain in office the bureaucrats who have been running the Government for the last eight years.

"GOVERNOR STEVENSON would not condone corruption. But no matter how honest and ethical he is, he could never clean up what he has called 'the mess in Washington.' He will be under too great an obligation to those responsible for 'the mess.' It will take a man like Eisenhower who is under no political obligation to the President or any other official of the Administration."

In many recent speeches Byrnes has advised all voters, and particularly Southern voters, to disregard party labels this year.

"I shall not vote for a label," he asserted. "I shall do what I have heretofore urged others to do."

Lebanon President Gives Up His Post

BEIRUT, Lebanon, Sept. 18 (AP) — Scrappy Bechara El Khoury finally yielded to opposition pressure today and gave up the presidency he had held since he led the fight to get the French out of Lebanon in 1943.

Reset by economic ills and charges of political corruption, the 62-year-old independence fighter is the third head of an Arab state eased out of office in less than two months.

El Khoury's duties were turned over to Gen. Faud Shehab, Army commander, until Lebanon names a new president. Political informants stressed, however, that today's switch was not a military coup. They said, Shehab, an elder statesman who happens to have military power, just stepped in to keep order. He formed a three-man emergency cabinet.

Who eventually will succeed El Khoury appeared uncertain.

Senator Morse Refuses To Campaign for Parly

NEW YORK, Sept. 18 (AP) — Sen. Wayne Morse (R-Ore.) said today he is "taking a stroll" and refusing to campaign for the Republican party's 1952 candidates.

He told a press conference that one bolts a party when he campaigns for the opposition. To take one does not campaign for his own party candidates.

Asked if he was taking a walk, Morse replied: "I'm certainly taking a stroll as of now."

As for supporting Eisenhower, Morse said: "I'm supporting him as of now—to the extent that I have expressed it in the speech."

Japan's UN Bid Vetoed by Malik

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Sept. 18 (AP) — Russia's Jacob A. Malik vetoed Japan's application for membership in the United Nations today.

It was the Soviet Union's 52nd veto and the 15th cast by the stony-faced Soviet deputy foreign minister since he became Russia's chief in the UN in May, 1948.

Malik is expected to end his four-year stay in a blaze of glory tomorrow by barring the French-sponsored Associated States of Cambodia, Laos and Vietnam from the UN. He has been recalled to Moscow for a new job.

The other 10 members of the 11-nation Security council all voted to admit ex-enemy Japan to the UN, but were stymied by Malik. He said Japan is an American colony, a war base, a threat to peace in the Pacific, and the U. S. is pursuing a course leading to catastrophe.

MALIK, GESTURING forcefully and pointing a finger frequently at U. S. Delegate Warren R. Austin, two seats away, turned from a denunciation of U. S. policy in Japan to a vigorous defense of his frequent vetoes.

They were made necessary, he declared, because the U. S. had used its military, economic, financial, and diplomatic power to turn most other UN members into faithful followers of American policy.

As part of this, Malik said, the U. S. had "fabricated the theory of a Soviet threat" and used "blackmail by fear" to get its own way.

Ambassador Austin, defending Japan's right to membership, said the United States had no right to veto Japan's bid.

Japan was entirely independent. He said American troops were there by agreement with the Japanese to prevent a power vacuum which the Soviet Union might move in to fill.

He praised the peace treaty signed by Japan and 48 other countries in San Francisco a year ago and pointed out to Malik that the Soviet Union, too, presumes to sit in judgement on Japan, had entered the war against that country only six days before it ended.

Malik, in reply, took off his dark green sunglasses and, turning to Austin, started the council by saying that in those six days, "our forces did more than your forces did throughout the war in the Far East. We saved the lives of a million of your officers and men."

Stevenson Attacks Ike's Endorsement Of Senator Jenner

HARTFORD, Conn., Sept. 18 (AP) — Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson said tonight that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's endorsement of Sen. William Jenner of Indiana amounts to "pursuit of power at any price."

Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee, came up at the same time with a warm endorsement of his own for Sen. William Benton, Connecticut Democrat who has demanded that GOP Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy of Wisconsin be ousted from Congress.

In a speech prepared for delivery at Bushnell Memorial auditorium (9 p. m., Pottstown time), Stevenson also appealed to Republicans to join with Democrats in working toward an international system for control of atomic power.

"To the millions of Americans to whom Joe Short was only a name, I say all of us have lost grievously," Stevenson said. "Joe Short was my loyal friend."

No immediate cause for Short's death was given. He died instantly.

JOSEPH SHORT COLLAPSES AND DIES AT HOME

Truman Is Shocked By Press Secretary's Death in Alexandria, Va.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18 (AP) — Joseph H. Short, President Truman's press secretary, collapsed and died at his home in nearby Alexandria, Va., tonight. He was 48.

The White House said he was taken ill the past Tuesday night, and spent several days in the hospital. He returned home Monday and had apparently been recuperating.

President Truman said in a statement: "Joe Short's death is as shocking to me as if he had been a member of my own family."

"For he was more than a trusted and valued assistant. I know how unsparing of his health he was in his service to me and to his country. Despite every urging that he rest, he labored day and night for uncompromising principles. He was a tireless advocate of justice and decency, and an unflinching fighter for progressive programs to make his country stronger and sounder."

"IN HIS personal relationships, he was a devoted husband and father and held the respect and friendship of all who knew him."

"Here was a public servant who inspired others, a rare model which cannot be replaced."

"To the millions of Americans to whom Joe Short was only a name, I say all of us have lost grievously."

3 Mines Closed

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 18 (AP) — Picket lines closed three Pittsburgh Consolidated Coal company mines in western Pennsylvania today.

Idling about 1000, but there was no immediate indication the walkout would spread—at least not before tomorrow's midnight deadline for an all-out strike in the soft coal fields.

Biggest of the operations is Montour Mine No. 4, near Pittsburgh, which employs about 425. The men reported for the afternoon shift but refused to cross picket lines.

Resolution Rejected By Episcopal Group

BOSTON, Sept. 18 (AP)—The Protestant Episcopal church's house of deputies rejected today a resolution calling for fairness in Congressional probes, a resolution which some objectors said was directed at Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.).

The resolve, previously adopted by the house of bishops in the current triennial general convention of the church, said in part:

"Fair-minded men have been shocked in recent months by accusations of a most serious nature levelled against respected citizens, unsupported by any factual evidence."

It was sponsored by Rt. Rev. William Scarlett, bishop of Missouri, who said in an interview he was prompted by Sen. McCarthy's "shocking attack" on General George Marshall.

In a Senate speech, June 14, 1951, McCarthy accused Marshall and Secretary of State Dean Acheson of engaging in a "conspiracy of infamy" against Nationalist China.

Blarney Stone Never To Stray From Cork

Irish powers be lost. The Kyloe stone supposedly had great healing power, and was in great demand. It was placed in a basket and carried to the patient, then rubbed on his injuries.

IRISH STONES also were popular for their alleged power to keep frogs and vermin out of the house. Still others were thought to prevent witchcraft and bad dreams. These stones were often suspended in stables or at the head of the bed.

The Murrain Stone of the Fitz-Gerald family was said to be able to cure hydrophobia and fevers. Animals were given drinking water in which the stone had been dipped.

In other parts of Britain, stones with holes in the center were considered most valuable as magical charms. On little Shipley island, for example, parents used to hang such stones around every child's neck until it reached its first birthday.

During the black plague of the fourteenth century, the citizens of Newcastle proved their belief in the curative powers of the Lee Stone. They raised a huge sum just to borrow it to try to stop the epidemic.

Other believers in the power of stones used to try to cure tuberculosis by having sufferers crawl through the Hole Stone at Crossapoll in Scotland. The Red Stone, owned by the Stewart family of Perthshire, is said to be able to cure distemper.

IN THE River Dee near Ballater, Scotland, is a perforated stone large enough for an adult to squeeze through. Childless women pass through this stone in hope of its making them fertile.

The stone chalice called the Luck of Eden Hall, recently times, drink a little of its water bought at auction for a British and museum, has a strange story supposed to be able to get out of sight of him. For generations it was owned by the Musgrave family of Penrith.

Legend says that one night the family butler went for some water to the well near the house, Eden Hall. At the well, he discovered some of the "wee people" frolicking with the stone chalice.

The butler wrested it away from the spirits. But as the sprites flew away, they cried down: "If this glass do break or fall, farewell to the family of Penrith."

Another of Ireland's magical stones was the one kept at Kyloe house in Stamfordham, England. This stone was never allowed to comes the first woman ever to own the Blarney Stone.

SHE CAN be relied on to protect the stone which is supposed to give an eloquent tongue to any one who kisses it, for she knows how important to Ireland's well-being are stones endowed with magical powers.

The Blarney Stone's reputation for loosening the tongue was acquired in the days of Queen Elizabeth I because Blarney castle, with its 18-foot thick walls, was so strong a defense position, the queen asked its owner to give it to her lord president of Ireland.

The castle's then owner, Dermot McCarthy, couldn't say "no" to the queen too abruptly, so he couched his answer in long, complimentary, flowery—but evasive—language. Elizabeth dubbed the lengthy reply "blarney."

Another of Ireland's magical stones was the one kept at Kyloe house in Stamfordham, England. This stone was never allowed to

Chest Campaign In Spring City to Aim for $3325

Spring City Community chest will seek $3325 during its campaign to be conducted Oct. 1 through Oct. 5. The goal is $329 more than the last year.

Plans for the drive were arranged Monday night at a meeting of directors and representatives of organizations involved. Vice-president Robert Schindler presided.

Officers of the chest will be elected in February. The late Charles H. Custer was president of the board. Mrs. Dorothy Edwards is secretary, and J. George Wiessner, treasurer.

Mrs. Edwards will have charge of the house-to-house solicitations. C. Paul Youngblood will direct the special gifts group.

The budget was adopted as follows:

- PUBLIC LIBRARY, $1000 (up 100); Community nursing service, $500; Girl Scouts, $400 ($300 for local use); United Defense fund, $200; Boy Scouts, $175 ($75 for local use); Halloween parade, $175; playground, $300 (up $200); Christmas tree lighting, $75; miscellaneous, $50.

The board dropped an allocation of $80 for Santa Claus.

Church Fellowship To Make Camp Trip

Members of the Adult Fellowship group of Spring City Evangelical and Reformed church will hold their annual weekend camp this weekend at Camp Fernbrook, near Pottstown. Members of the group and their families will stay at the camp from tonight until Sunday night.

A full program for a religious camping experience has been planned by the president of the group, Walter Marsland. Each year the group spends a weekend at Camp Fernbrook in September.

Devotional services at the camp will be under the direction of the worship committee of the group, with George Littlefield as chairman.

Safety Program For Bike Riders Pushed by Lions

Royersford Lions club has launched a Lite-A-Bike project to promote safe bicycle riding.

Plans for the safety measure were arranged at a semi-monthly meeting of the Lions club Wednesday night at Spring-Ford Country club.

At no expense to owners of the bikes, the Lions club will provide red and white reflector tape for all bicycles brought to the high school Saturday, Sept. 27, between 9:30 and 11:30 a. m. This will enable motorists to detect bicycles more easily on the streets and aid in preventing accidents.

The committee in charge comprises Kline, Savage, Charles Lebow, Thomas D. Evans, William Watson, David Undercoffler, Earl Frederick, Rudolph Auer, William H. Kulp, Russell Bush, Harry Shappell, Roy Peoples and D. Clare Mock.

The movement has the endorsement of the police department.

Police Chief Bryson Turner has been asked to be at the high school to give the boys a safety talk while the tape is being affixed to their bikes.

Having spilled their glasses and bottles, these waitresses will have to wait for another chance to win the main event at the annual races held in London's Battersea Gardens. Disqualification is the penalty exacted of waiters and waitresses who drop their trays during the competition.

The Beacon society of the East Vincent Evangelical and Reformed church was entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Cleveland Gow, Schuylkill road.

During the business session, over which Mrs. Furman H. Gyger Sr. presided, plans were made for the conducting of the food stand at the Gilbertville sale tomorrow afternoon, Oct. 3 was designated as the date for the plant-a-row in gathering to be held at the church in connection with an evening program.

Games were played and refreshments were served. Those present included the Rev. Robert F. Brillhart, Mrs. Gyger, Anna Moyer, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne G. Hoffman, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Scheib, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph S. Quinter and Mr. and Mrs. Gow.

A Harvest Home service will be held this Sunday at the East Vincent Evangelical and Reformed church when donations will be given to the Reformed Church Home, Wyncote. The members of the Women's guild of the church will co-operate in arranging the display of gifts for the event.

All flowers at the church were presented by Mr. and Mrs. Harry M. Titus, Jr., Arch street, Spring City, in honor of their third wedding anniversary.

The Young Women's class of the East Vincent Evangelical and Reformed church was entertained recently at "Spruce Haven," near Kimberton, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Furman H. Gyger Jr., Assistant. Mrs. Gyger as co-hostesses were Mrs. John F. Yeager and Mrs. Jacob H. Finkbinder. The business session was conducted by Mrs. Finkbinder, who is president of the class.

It was decided to hold an exchange sale at the next meeting; and there was discussion on holding a Halloween party this year, details to be announced later. The gift of the month was received by Mrs. Merrill F. Hillebeitel. During the program period, members told about their vacations of the past summer. The member who had traveled the farthest was Mrs. Leo Bever who spent 18 days in Oklahoma. Refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Those present were: Mrs. Paul D. Barton, teacher of the class; Mrs. L. Kenneth Buzzard, Mrs. Finkbinder, Mrs. Robert E. Funk, Mrs. Richard C. Funk, Mrs. N. F. Hillebeitel, Mrs. Lloyd Mowrer, Mrs. C. Ordinary Ferns Possess Pretty Potent Ingredients

BLOOMFIELD HILLS, Sept. 18 (AP)—Many ferns grown by householders contain the raw materials for fireworks, beer and leather-tanning.

The Cranbrook Institute of Science, a non-profit educational center, reports these and other uses for ferns in a recently published book "Ferns of Michigan."

Various fern spores containing considerable oil were once employed extensively in the manufacture of fireworks and other explosives as well as for dyes. The Bracken fern is astringent enough to serve in the manufacture of leather and when burned, it provides the high nitrogen content suitable for fertilizer, the book reports.

Italians See 496 Films, 107 of Which Are Italian

ROME, Sept. 18 (AP)—Italians saw 496 films the past year, according to official government figures.

Of this number 107 were Italian films—an increase of three over the 104 of 1950. In the year 1938 only 45 Italian films were projected in Italian theaters.

There were 389 foreign films exhibited in Italy the past year as compared to 387 for 1950 and 230 for 1938.

Pottstown's Prides

Another in the series of beautiful homes that make Pottstown warm

This house at 250 Maplewood drive of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin F. Edwards—that's they on the lawn—looks new but actually it's celebrating its 10th anniversary today. When built by Paul L. A. Keiser Pottstown contractor, it was the first completed home on the street. Proof of the home's age visible in this photograph is the bigger tree Edwards planted it himself when they first moved in. It was 2 1/2 inches in diameter then. The Cape Cod style roof of the house is of heavy moss green asbestos that was supposed to look ten years old when it first was put on. The house is filled with color. Down stairs are a dining room (wedgewood blue and 'redbird' red) living room (green and white), two bedrooms, one of them rose, the other red and white, and a blue bathroom. Upstairs are one finished bedroom and another bedroom and a bath on their way to being finished. The porch behind the bigger tree will be unscreened soon. At the back of the home are a barbecue shed and picnic tables. In the basement is a recreation room in knotty pine, with windows in port hole style and a ship picture illuminated with a hidden light. The outside wall behind the porch is of knotty pine. The sides of the house are of clapboard. Edwards is a life underwriter for the Prudential Insurance Company of America.

YANCEYVILLE N. C., Sept. 18—Eleven-year-old Gene Smith has parlayed a dollar he received three years ago for helping his neighbor weed his tobacco into a return of $85. Gene spent 94 cents of that first dollar for six chickens which he raised and sold for $6. His $6 bought 30 eggs which produced 22 birds which he sold for $11. Next Gene purchased a sow pig that had a litter of five pigs. The farmer recently sold pigs and sows for $95.

BEIRUT Lebanon Sept. 18—Lebanon's government is discussing an appeal to Lebanese emigrants overseas to invest capital in their homeland. Lebanon's population of 1,200,000 is matched by an equal number of Lebanese living abroad—in the United States, Brazil, South Africa, Australia. The emigrants regularly send money to their people back home but usually as outright gifts. The government's proposed appeal will be the first effort to attract serious capital investment from the emigrants.

Steps, Falling Brick Blamed in Accidents

Household steps and a falling brick were the causes of two Memorial hospital dispensary cases yesterday. Clarence Daniels, 7 Road A Hilldale was treated for cuts on the scalp after a fall at his home. James H. Davies, West Chester was treated for a cut on the scalp which he sustained while working for Renninger and Mason Stony Creek Mills contractors. Both patients were discharged after treatment. Davies was brought to the hospital at 2:45 p.m. and Daniels was treated at 4:45 p.m.

Businessmen Meet To Eat; No Business

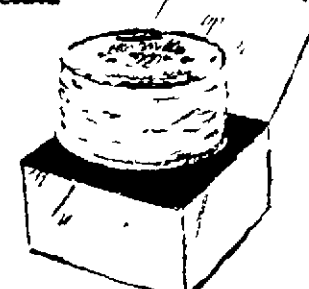

The Pottstown American Business Association met for its regular weekly session for a dinner at Amityville yesterday. Thirty-two members of the club attended a roast beef dinner at the Amityville hotel last night at 7 o'clock. The dinner was designed for complete relaxation by the program chairman Leonard Rachid. There were no speakers, no movies and no business conducted. In the words of Past President Harold F. Binder, "It was just a quiet dinner out of town."

Doe Club's Display At Elks Forecasts Fall Fashions For Mother Or Daughter

By PATRICIA GIBBON
(Mercury Staff Writer)

Everybody—but husbands—got into the act last night in the Doe club's 14th annual fashion show and card party held in the Elks club hall. Potted palms, sprawling ivy, and vases of Fall flowers, deep red and yellow zinnias, one of which was on Mr. Frank Kurtz's piano, decorated the hall.

For an audience of some 300 women, dressed in everything from WAVE uniforms to dazzling Summer sheers and seated at card tables or in rows of folding chairs, Mrs. Eugene Smith commented on fashions for youngsters from two to ten and for women from under the age of discretion to those comfortably beyond it.

After sponsors, Mrs. Betty Friend, Tiny Tot shoppe, Mrs. Josephine Davies, Claire Hat shop, and Mrs. Smith, Phyllis Anne shop, had been introduced to the group, the first of the young fry walked gingerly upon the runway. A McDuff red and green gingham plaid dress with pique collar and cuffs and a hand-smocked bodice was first. Patricia Wack, a pint-sized redhead, wore a quilted lavender corduroy jumper with a white nylon blouse. Washability and perky skirts, two qualities dear to the heart of a doing mother, were prominent virtues of all the children's fashions.

MICHELE Fleischmann displayed the mettle of a true trooper. After she and her sister, Karen, had promenaded down the bodice was held away the length of one run-together by rhinestone bars, was dressed in tiny blue and grey plaid smocked dresses had a very full skirt, the next and carrying pink and blue French blue suit had a pencil-skirted jacket. Its short skirt, double-breasted, decided that the bright light either side and dolman sleeves. To endure, so she dropped the hand. A tricky little accessory was a of her 1 1/2 year old sister to retire large rhinestone starburst pinned behind the burlap-screened dress, at the waist with a little chain that ing room. Miss Michele trotted dipped to disappear in the waist-carefully on to finish her stroll hand. A dusty rose hat completed down the second runway.

Another family combination, the Asheimer boys, Wesley and Kenneth, modeled a three piece outfit bined in lavender and purple in red and blue plaid and navy shades for an after five outfit. The blue wool. A vest was worn under lavender blouse with three-quarter a matching plaid blazer with full length sleeves had a high button-up length navy pants by the elder bodice with a wide gathered detail Asheimer boy, while the younger insert. Married in Catholic Ceremony

Mr. and Mrs. Paul T. Stercula, (above), were united in marriage recently in St. Aloysius Catholic church, with the Rev. William Begley, rector, officiating. Mrs. Stercula is the former Miss Virginia Hoffman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hoffman, 870 North Charlotte street. Mr. Stercula is a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Stercula, 457 Beech street. The couple are residing at the home of the bride's parents.

St. Aloysius Mass Joins Mary Byler And George Walker

Miss Mary Jane Byler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David A. Byler, 32 Race street, Stowe, recently became the bride of Mr. George U. Walker, 3 High street, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Harry Chorzuk, at a nuptial mass in St. Aloysius Catholic church.

Organist Mrs. Eleanor Kurtz and vocalist Mr. Paul Marchek performed for the large number of guests at the double ring ceremony for which the Rev. William M. Begley officiated.

As she came down the aisle on the arm of her father, the bride carried an orchid-tipped prayer book and wore a gown of Chantilly lace and satin, featuring a Peter Pan collar embellished with iridescent sequins, a lace yoke, a scalloped beatha, and full length sleeves. Her satin skirt had wide panels of lace which extended in back to form a six panel court train. A fingertip veil fell from a lace calot edged in satin and tiny orange blossoms.

Sister of the bridegroom, Miss Helen Chorzuk, was maid of honor and dressed in mint green over emerald green taffeta. The strapless bodice had a lace bolero; the half-bat of tulle had a floral trim. Her bouquet was composed of yellow chrysanthemums and bronze pompons.

IN SIMILARLY styled gowns the other attendants, Mrs. William Walker, sister-in-law of the bridegroom, and Miss Niede Kulp, were lilac over purple and shrimp pink. Miss Linda Githner, flower girl, in candy green satin which had puffed sleeves, a sweetheart neckline, and a pick-up skirt which revealed several rows of lace, carried chrysanthemums and pompons too.

Best man was Mr. William Walker, Jenkintown; ushers were Mr. Lee O'Dell and Mr. Fred Newruck.

A wedding breakfast in the West End Fire house followed the ceremony for which mother of the bride, Mrs. Byler, wore an orchid corsage upon her plum colored dress with black accessories. The newllyweds are residing at 3 High street.

Guests attended from Lorain, Ohio; Wilmington, Del.; Lyons, N. J.; Quantico, Va.; Newport, R. I.; Reading, Boyertown, Barto, Philadelphia, Norristown, Jenkintown, Pottstown and Stowe.

61st Annual Conference Is Held in Norco School

The 61st Fall conference of the Chester county council of Parent-Teacher's associations was highlighted last night by the talks given by a four-man panel.

Although the affair was held all-day, the largest crowd attended the evening session, which featured Dr. Andrew Lotz, Paoli; the Rev. Hugh Fryer, Coatesville; Dr. Earl Sykes, State Teachers college, West Chester; and Mrs. Elwood Ricknell, East Nottingham, on the panel.

Mrs. Bicknell took the place of Dr. Agne Ewing, West Grove, who was unable to attend.

"EDUCATION for Health," was the topic of the talk given by Dr. Lotz. He said:

"The fundamentals of health should be taught to children in the school so that they will be better informed on the correct use of medicine and not so easily led into the use of all kinds of remedies."

"Educate generally on health instruction classes to take place and inform people on what can be done in the pool on her grounds, and done and what cannot be done with the available modern medicine," he concluded.

"The REV. Fryer spoke on 'Family Security.' 'We have a job to do today, for we must help people to understand life and themselves,' he said. 'We must look to the parents for the answer to family security.'"

"Marriage has many aspects, such as devotion at home, the economic aspect, the personal side of marriage, but most vital of all is real and devoted love between parents and between parents and children, and the love of the family for God."

DR. SYKES, director of placement at West Chester college, spoke on "Shortage of Elementary Teachers."

"Who will teach your child?" he asked. "Youth needs good teachers. In this matter of shortage of teachers we have the need of 160,000, but have had only a graduating group of 30,000 the past year."

He went on to further state that teachers today should know how to project the knowledge they have learned to the pupils.

MRS. BICKNELL spoke on "Recreation." She is president of the Chester County council of PTA. Speaking for Dr. Ewing, who is associated with the Red Cross in sponsoring the program of aquatic

Music Supervision Explained for PTA Of Rupert at Tea

Mr. Lester F. C. Smith, music instructor at Pottstown Senior High School, spoke to members of Rupert Parent-Teacher Association yesterday at a tea in the Rupert schoolhouse.

He informed them of the band instrument instructions to be given once a week to pupils of the fourth, fifth and sixth grades.

Mrs. Sol Borger, president, presided, and the opening prayer was given by Mrs. Joseph Dininni. Mrs. Ethel Brown, principal of the school, introduced all of the teachers to the parents and comments were given by Mr. Harvey Focnocht, principal of elementary schools in Pottstown; and Dr. George A. McCormick, superintendent of schools.

A SHORT business meeting was held, at which time reports were given by all committee chairmen.

The program was conducted by Mrs. Harold Litvin, who introduced Mrs. Donald Kichne, who, in turn, explained the aim and purpose of the PTA. Mrs. Litvin outlined the program for the coming year.

Community singing was led by Mrs. Bert Shaw with Mrs. Walter Wetherhold as pianist.

Mrs. Borger awarded Mrs. Ethel Brown a life-time membership card and pin to the PTA.

Tea was served by Mrs. Borger and Mrs. Brown at a table decorated with mixed asters and can-de-labra.

Following the meeting refreshments were served by Mrs. Margaret Brady and games were played.

The next meeting will be held Oct. 21 in Houck school. A safety week program will be held, with O. C. Beacraft of the American Automobile association, in charge.

Elegant Dress

For all but after-dark wear of the quite dressy type, the silhouette is usually good this year. Scoring, too, is the dress and matching jacket ensemble, a favorite with well-dressed women everywhere.

Elfreda-Fox does such an ensemble in pastel, light weight woolen and keeps it smartly simple. The superbly cut dress is slim, and is untripped save for a jewel-studded collar which is worn outside the matching, collarless jacket to provide a focal point that is just right.

Each parent was asked to identify himself and to state the grade which his child attends.

Central PTA Hears Talks On Band, Safety Patrols

The elementary school band and the safety patrol were discussed at the first meeting of the Central Parent-Teacher's association held last night.

Mrs. Floyd Shaner opened the meeting by welcoming the parents and teachers and expressing the desire that they attend the future meetings in such great number. There were approximately 80 people present in addition to 18 children in the nursery which was in charge of Mrs. Horace Kramer assisted by two paid baby-sitters, Miss Marjorie Hampton and Miss Shirley Kramer.

The devotions were led by Mrs. Paul Moyer who read a poem entitled "Prayer for the New School Year." Welcoming songs also were sung by the group.

The minutes of previous meetings were read by Mrs. Robert Richards who also read the treasurer's report.

The next executive board meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Floyd Shaner, 37 Beech street, on Tuesday, Oct. 14, at 1 o'clock.

All the teachers of the Washington school were then introduced and each one was given a corsage.

Each parent was asked to identify himself and to state the grade which his child attends.

Pottstown's Finest

Hope for the future lies in Pottstown's schools. The Mercury is publishing pictures of Pottstown's finest, the children in our schools. Every day a new room of school children will be shown here. Save the series, and enjoy them anew in future years.

Bus Rams Truck, Two Women Killed

SOMERSET, Sept. 18 (AP)—A Greyhound bus rammed the back of a big truck in pre-dawn fog on the Pennsylvania Turnpike today, killing two elderly widowed sisters in law and injuring the bus driver and his 28 other passengers.

The express bus bound from Pittsburgh to Washington hit the rear of the tractor trailer truck about six miles east of the Donnegal interchange at 3:45 a.m.

The trucker, Edward H. Todd of Okla. Fla., said he was going about 55 miles an hour when the bus rammed his food laden vehicle. Bus Driver Alfred Wickham of Hickory, Pa., put his speed at 55 miles an hour.

Killed were Mrs. Mollie Allen, 81 of Nathalia, Va., and Mrs. Florence Allen, 75 of Louisville, Ky. They died because they chose to sit together in the right hand front seat of the bus. That part of the bus was smashed.

Britain Starts Probing Rent Control Laws

LONDON, Sept. 18 (AP)—Britain started probing its rent control laws today after landlords complained they can't afford the repairs that keep older houses going.

Conservative housing Minister Harold MacMillan launched a fact finding investigation of rent restriction acts that freeze rentals at 1939 prices for nearly 8,000,000 homes.

According to landlords—and local housing councils seeking to make them do vital repair work—the nation's older houses are falling derelict almost as fast as new ones go up.

Arsonists Sentenced To Penitentiary Terms

MEDIA, Sept. 18 (AP)—Three young volunteer firemen who admitted setting 21 fires causing property damage in excess of $100,000 were sentenced today to long terms in Eastern State penitentiary.

Carl Michael Heffron, 28, was given 30 to 60 years. Thomas Vincent Shavens, 19, 20 to 40 years, and Robert Harry Wegmann, 27, who read the sentences, said 'the 10 to 30 years. All are from nearby Springfield township.

President Judge Harold L. Evin, as these.

TV 'Appearance' Downfall of Fugitive

LANCASTER, Sept. 18 (AP)—A fugitive sought seven months by Federal agents was apprehended here today due to the alerting of two Lancaster citizens who saw his picture on a television screen.

The man is Albertus Reed Bollacker, 41, a native of Schenectady, N. Y., who has been employed since February under the name of Albert Barker as a helper in a Lancaster supermarket.

Bollacker's picture was seen by two local residents whose names the FBI did not divulge on a program telecast at 12:05 a.m. today. Entitled "Wanted Persons," the program is put on twice weekly in cooperation with the FBI. One of these persons notified the FBI and the other party informed police.

Action After Bus Wreck Awaits Coroner's Inquest

MONESSEN, Sept. 18 (AP)—State Police Lt. J. C. Grey said tonight it has been decided not to take any action against either the driver or passengers in the crash of a train bus which killed four high school pupils and injured 47 others until a coroner's inquest is held next week.

The statement came after a conference at nearby West Newton in the office of Alderman J. E. Moorhead. It was attended by State police and District Attorney L. Alexander Scullen of Westmoreland county.

Grey said the investigation of the crash at Collinsburg yesterday is being pushed with utmost speed but that it will be quite some time before we can pull together all the loose ends.

US Voting Record Poor, Justice Says

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18 (AP)—Justice John C. Bell Jr., of the Pennsylvania Supreme Court, said today it's too bad that only 50 percent of less of American citizens bother to vote.

Bell was a speaker at tonight's dinner session of the Seventh National Conference on Citizenship sponsored by the National Education association and the Department of Justice.

He discussed the theme of the conference, the Constitution and the Citizen, reviewing the Bill of Rights provisions of the Constitution the liberties prescribed and the safeguards they must have to remain effective.

Battle Follows Wild Auto Chase

Police in Hollywood, Calif., fire tear gas into a public garage (top) during a gun battle with two young robbery suspects and their girl friend following a wild, 60 mile an-hour chase through the center of the city. At bottom, Charles Marshall, 23, blinded by the tear gas, emerges from garage as the girl, Eileen Wilde, 20, (background) is grabbed by police. They and Floyd Cadwell, 25, were booked on suspicion of armed robbery. Police, who reported the trio was first sighted riding in a stolen taxicab, said they are wanted for robberies in Las Vegas, Nev., and San Bernardino, Calif.

Countries Complain United States Slow On Korea Action Plan

UNITED NATIONS N. Y. Sept. 18 (AP)—Some countries allied with the United States in Korea are complaining that Washington is too slow in putting up a definite plan on Korea for action by the UN Assembly convening Oct. 14.

Diplomats from these countries do not want to be identified. But they insist the United States should agree now on a proposal present it to the 16 other countries with fighting forces in Korea and thus lay the initiative on a united front at the start of the seventh Assembly.

There have been reports that consultations are under way, but several delegates said today contacts have been few and far between. Representatives of some half dozen countries reported they have had no real talks on the subject.

U. S. sources say the United States is "in touch" with other countries on the subject. They refuse to say whether Washington has a plan in shape for study.

IN WASHINGTON—the 17 countries with forces fighting in Korea meet each week at the State department. But delegations of some of the countries say there have been no important talks on any proposal so far. One delegation describes the meetings as merely briefing by the United States with some State department official reading communications and the report of the unified command.

The delegates here say time is zipping short. The United States took the ball at the start of the assembly in Paris the past year with a proposal on disarmament. The Russians never caught up.

There is a danger now they continue, that if Washington does not come out with some plan soon the Russians will grab the spotlight with some Korean plan at the start of the assembly and the West will have a hard time catching the Kremlin propaganda wise.

Thomas Challenges Taft To Prove Statement

NEW YORK Sept. 18 (AP)—Socialist Norman Thomas today challenged Sen. Robert A. Taft to prove his statement that the basic campaign issue is "liberty against Socialism."

Thomas said in a telegram to Taft, "I deny that there is conflict between Socialism and liberty." Taft made the assertion last night in a speech at Springfield, Ohio.

Thomas suggested Taft meet him in public debate on the issue. "I should be willing to certify."

Governor Stevenson (of Illinois the Democratic presidential nominee) as a non Socialist continued Thomas who recently has been his party's presidential nominee.

Nixon Terms Attack on 'Expense' Fund 'Political Smear,' Hits Back at Sparkman

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Sept. 19 (AP)—U. S. Sen. Richard Nixon tonight holly rejected as "a political smear" a suggestion by the Democratic national chairman that Nixon resign as Republican vice presidential nominee. The suggestion was based on a charge that Nixon was "morally wrong" in defraying Senatorial expenses from $16,000 donated by wealthy backers.

It's an attempt to pull a political smear," Nixon said here as he changed from train to plane on a campaign tour.

Then he shot back a question for Democratic National Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell.

"Why doesn't he ask Sparkman (U. S. Sen. John Sparkman, of Alabama, the Democratic vice presidential nominee) to resign because his wife is on the (Government) payroll?"

In swift succession today:

1. Mitchell in Washington suggested Nixon should resign in view of the "relation that Senator Nixon has been accepting donations from wealthy California businessmen to supplement his salary as a Senator."

2. DANA C. Smith, a Pasadena attorney, a trustee of the fund said the $16,000 was raised because the $2500 annual expense money allowed each Senator was not enough for one from a State as fund said it had been used to pay large and populous as California bills incurred by Nixon in representing California.

Communist Chief Held For Defying Parade Ban

BREMEN, Germany, Sept. 18 (AP)—Bremen's Communist chief Hermann Gaubier, was arrested tonight for trying to lead a torchlight demonstration in defiance of a police ban.

Three hundred Reds were dispersed by police without serious fighting.

Nixon said the money was used for postage for mail on which he prefers not to use the Senatorial franking privilege, it defrays "necessary travel expenses," it pays the cost of printing speeches and documents and enables him to hire extra clerical help.

As an alternative," the nominee said, "I might have resorted to tax paid facilities, free Government transportation or I might have put my wife on the Federal payroll as did the Democratic nominee for vice president. I did none of these. Nor have I been accepting law fees on the side while serving as a member of Congress. I prefer to play completely fair with the taxpayers."

Nixon in his statement didn't identify the supporters who collected the money.

At Pasadena, Dana C. Smith, an attorney who says he disburses the enough for one from a State as fund said it had been used to pay large and populous as California bills incurred by Nixon in representing California.

Communist Troops Fight Way to Top of 'Old Baldy' in Korea

SEOUL, Friday, Sept. 19.—Chinese troops smashed to the crest of shell-stripped "Old Baldy" on the Korean western front early today and—shortly before noon—hand-to-hand fighting still raged.

A frontline officer reported Allied troops were battling bunker to bunker to drive off the Reds. The assault was described as mounted by two companies, possibly a battalion. This could mean about 800 Reds.

"Old Baldy" was secured by U. S. Second division troops Aug. 1 after see-saw battles in July in which the U. S. 45th division lost, regained and then lost the hill again. The Chinese last took the crest July 22, and were chased off Aug. 2.

The frontline officer said the Chinese assault began shortly after midnight, following a n intensive artillery and mortar barrage in which at least 2000 Red rounds were counted.

To the east, on the central front, South Korean infantrymen scored another victory Thursday on the central front. They seized and held a height on Finger ridge despite furious Communist cannonading.

THE SOUTH Koreans—rapidly becoming an Allied bulwark under U. S. military training—seized the Finger ridge height with all the daring they displayed in recapturing nearby Capitol hill the past week.

The troops of the Capitol division swarmed up to the crest behind an artillery and tank barrage and within eight minutes drove the Chinese Communists from their summit bunkers with bayonets and hand grenades.

The dispersed Chinese tried to reform, but were cut down by an artillery barrage and Korean fire from the ridge. Then the Red artillery and mortars opened up and for eight hours angrily pounded the South Korean positions.

The Chinese then broke off the firing without trying to tackle the South Koreans again.

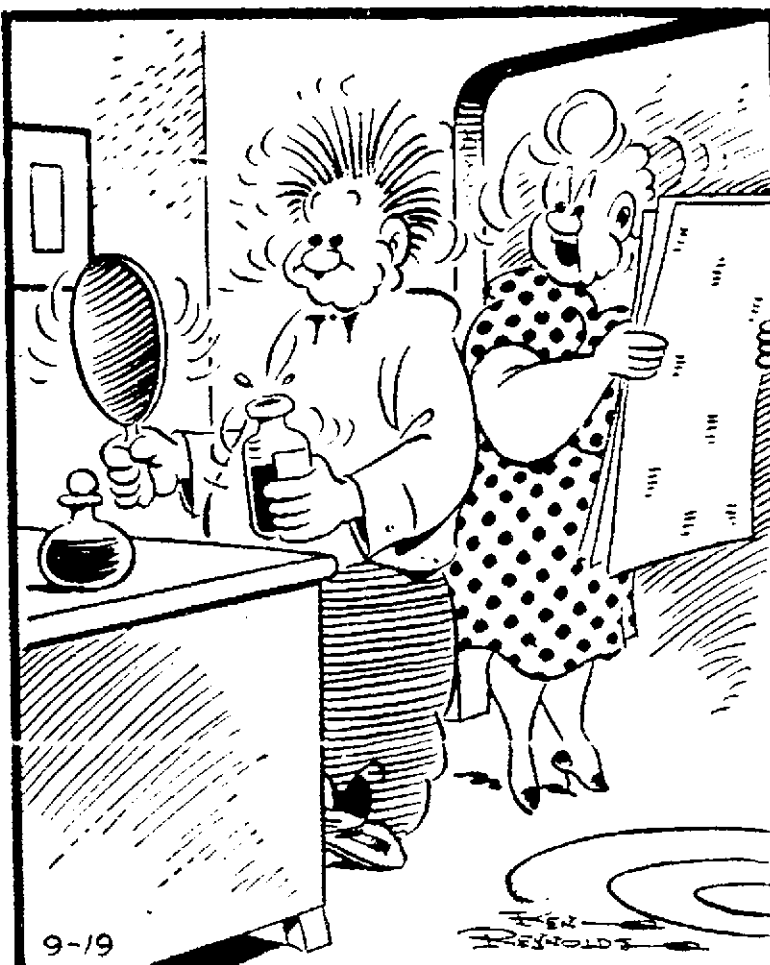

The Chinese still held the northeast part of Finger ridge, but the Koreans had the ridge's heights they wanted to the south. They had lost the southern positions in savage fighting Sept. 6.

Far to the west, the Chinese were thrown back in hand-to-hand combat after they launched three attacks on an Allied hill position northwest of Yonchon.

After two smaller attacks failed,

Eagles to Sponsor 2d Shuffle Bowling Tournament in Fall

Anybody who wants to sponsor another shuffle bowling contest this Fall, it was decided at the meeting last night.

"Everybody had such a good time at the Summer bowling tournament we put on that we decided to have another," Robert Harman, president, said. "We expect about twice as many members to take part in this one."

He added that any Eagle of 625 who wants to be in the bowling league can sign up now at the hall. The league has about 125 members.

Prizes for the best shuffle bowlers will be awarded at a banquet Oct. 9.

About 24 persons attended last night's meeting.

Scouts to Be Trained At Phoenixville High

Courses for Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Explorer Scouts will begin Sept. 30 at Phoenixville Junior High school.

This was announced last night at the regular monthly troop and post leaders roundtable of the Frontier district of the Chester county Council of the Boy Scouts of America at Camp Innabah in Pughtown.

Hosts for the group were Earl Webster, scoutmaster of Troop 25, and John Rinehart, adviser of Explorer Post 35. Parker Malenko and Herbert Yost, scoutmaster and assistant Scoutmaster of Troop 29, Parkerford, attended.

The meeting discussed the review of the council jamboree held the past Friday, Saturday and Sunday at the S. B. Davis ranch at Chadds Ford, and made plans for the Fall roundup.

Troops from Kimberton and Phoenixville were also represented at the roundtable discussions.

Evangelist to Lecture At Revival Services

Dr. Andrew Johnson, general evangelist from the Methodist church, Wilmore, Ky., will lecture tonight on "Calvinism vs. Arminianism" at revival services in the Holiness Christian church, Oak and Evans streets.

The former vice presidential candidate on the Prohibition ticket has been a member of the Ministerial association of Asbury college in Wilmore for about 40 years.

Services will be under the direction of the Rev. Berwin Hainly, pastor of the church.

Herbert Bauer, Marine, Due Home From Korea

Marine S. Sgt. Herbert J. Bauer, 1219 Maple street, will be returning home from the battlefields of Korea in a few days.

He is among the 1820 Marine and Navy veterans aboard the transport Gen. A. W. Brewster, due to dock in San Francisco today.

City Softball All-Stars Defeat Tired Moose

A team of tired champions went down to defeat before an All-Star onslaught last night to draw the curtain on Pottstown's softball season. Moose was no match for the City Softball league All-Stars as the pick of the crop handed the regular season and playoff titlists a 12-3 thumping.

After going the full five games to win the playoffs against PAR Moose was unable to untrack itself for five innings and watched as the Stars built a 10-run lead.

Only in the first and fourth inning was the All-Star attack slowed down to scoreless proportions. Moose finally made a token effort in the last turn at bat and went out showing a bit of championship class by scoring four runs.

A three-run outburst in the second inning started the Stars to victory. Mike Jackley, the Redbirds catcher, opened the scoring with a home run off starter Tom Kosolowski for Moose.

Jacobs' Jim Dilliplane followed with a single and was advanced on a sacrifice by second baseman Bill Glutz, a regular season teammate.

LEE WEISOREIK, Robinson's contribution to the All-Star outfield, boomed a home run, scoring Glutz ahead of him.

The scoring continued fast and furious in the third inning. The Stars sending five runs across the plate. Single runs in the fifth and sixth kept the scoring parade in full stride and the winners ended with another pair in the top of the seventh.

Harold DeTurk, from Robinson, was the biggest gun in the long list of the league's top hitters. "He walloped four straight hits. Dilliplane three safeties, including a triple ranked him second in the 12-hit attack.

Moose collected nine hits off the combined offerings of George Levensood, Redbirds, Harold Beekley, Thomas Motors, and Russ Johnson, PAR.

Al Roen and Will Richards followed Kosolowski to the mound for Moose.

Lined up with Alexander, primarily a defensive back in '51, in the totting department are Senior Gary Grater and Juniors Charlie Miller and Carroll Swenson. No one in that quartet exceeds 160.

McNelly also mentioned Hen Wojton, a Senior, to see plenty of action in tonight's scrap, mainly as a defensive back.

The 'Fords will probably rely greatly on their two returning All-Perk selections of the past year—Dinnocenti and Grater to spearhead the ground attack.

AS FAR AS passing goes, Alexander's arm hasn't been tried in combat yet, but the little fellow is plenty cagey and might come around to be one of the area's foremost heavies.

The two teams stacked up tonight didn't play in '51, but the Eagles murdered S-P, 38-0, in 1950.

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

HOAGY CARMICHAEL tells about a hunting trip he made with an egomaniac who wouldn't admit that a downpour of rain could have the slightest effect on his marksmanship. Sloshing homeward in a miniature flood, the intrepid hunter heard the whirr of a bird's wings overhead, whipped his gun out of the case, took hard aim, and fired. The bird sailed on undisturbed toward the murky horizon. The hunter watched it in dazed silence for a moment, then dashed his gun to the ground, and cried out, "Fly on you blankety blank fool bird! Fly on with your god-darned heart shot out!"

In Paris, Taylor Caldwell, whose latest book is "The Devil's Advocate," went to a dentist and asked to have her teeth cleaned. The dentist asked, "Which ones?" It developed that French dentists charge by the tooth, and that since only the front teeth show, many frugal Parisians confine operations to that region. Miss Caldwell, no piker she, ordered the works.

IT'S NICE TO BE POPULAR

Tickle Your Funnybone

A pretty girl sat alone on a park bench, reports Colonel. Nearby a policeman patrolled his beat. A young man strolled along and seated himself.

The cop approached the bench and eyeing the man suspiciously asked:

"Is this guy annoying you, miss?"

"No," was the reply, "but maybe he would if you'd go away."

Keep teeth bright

Chew Wrigley's Spearmint Gum. Chewing helps keep teeth bright. Freshens taste, sweetens breath. Pleasant aid to popularity.

IT'S QUEER BUT TRUE

YOUR IDEA IS TO PRODUCE A MAN'S SUIT WHICH WOULD CHANGE COLOR FROM GRAY TO BROWN TO BLUE IN THREE SUITS TO ONE. I AM AHAH, BUT I DON'T SEE HOW IT COULD BE DONE. MR. GLEEGUP!

THE SUIT MATERIAL IS TREATED WITH A FLUORESCENT DYE WHICH REACTS TO LIGHT. A GRAY SUIT, SUNSHINE TURNS IT BROWN, AND AT NIGHT THE SUIT BECOMES NAVY BLUE!

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE

Here's how to work it:

ANYDLBAAN
KLONGFELLOW

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

RACE QUESTION ARGUMENTS SET

Supreme Court Slates Airing on Issue of Segregation in Schools

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18 (AP)—The Supreme court today scheduled arguments for mid-October on the question whether separation of white and Negro children in public schools violates the Constitution.

A final decision is not likely for six weeks or more afterward—long after the general election on November 4. Thus, whatever the justices have to say on segregation will not have a bearing on the civil rights debate during the height of the presidential campaign.

The highest tribunal has been asked in two major cases from South Carolina and Topeka, Kansas, to strike down the "separate but equal" doctrine that has stood since 1896.

In that year the Supreme court said a Louisiana law requiring separation of the races did not violate the Federal Constitution so long as Negroes had substantially equal facilities.

PARENTS OF Negro children in the South Carolina and Topeka cases base their attack on segregation largely on guarantees of the Constitution's 14th amendment.

The amendment was adopted in 1868—after the Civil war. Its provisions include one that no State may deny to any person the equal protection of the laws.

A decision overturning the 1896 ruling—in the elementary grade school cases to be heard next month—could have far-reaching effects on other States municipal public services financed by the taxpayers. The list could include Junior and Senior High schools, State colleges and universities, public swimming pools and golf courses.

The court, of course, could reaffirm the "separate-but-equal" doctrine.

The tribunal's new term begins on Oct. 6, but business that day consists largely of routine opening formalities. On Oct. 13 the justices begin hearing arguments on new appeals. The South Carolina and Topeka segregation cases are now scheduled for hearing on Oct. 14 and 15.

Ordinarily in such major cases the justices take six weeks or longer to discuss the issues in closed conferences and to write their opinion, or opinions. Sometimes major cases remain in the judges' hands for six months or longer.

PARKERFORD

The Young People's group held their first Fall meeting recently. Mrs. Kenneth Long gave the message by use of the flannelgraph. There will be no meeting Sunday because the members are invited to the annual home coming program at Green Tree Brethren church, Oaks. The group will meet every Sunday evening thereafter.

Rally day will be observed in the Brethren church on Sunday, Sept. 28 at 10 a. m. Everyone is invited to attend this service at which time special music will be featured and speaker will be Luther Lady. Awards will be presented to those who have had perfect attendance for fifty Sundays during the past year. Several persons will be baptized at the evening service.

Ethel Moyer has returned to East Stroudsburg State Teachers college where she is a senior.

Barbara Elliott has returned to Juniata college, Huntingdon, Pa. where she will be a sophomore. Miss Elliott spent the summer at a camp in New Hampshire where she was a counselor.

Dr. and Mrs. Paul Penpacker and daughters, Bonnie and Donna, San Diego, Calif., visited Dr. Penpacker's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Penpacker, and other relatives and friends in the vicinity.

It is estimated that 5000 products are made from petroleum

Train Smashes School Bus

Twisted wreckage is all that's left of this Monessen, Pa., school bus after it was smashed by a freight train, killing three students and injuring 47. A curious crowd stands around as a tow truck pulls the bus chassis away. Several parents who rushed to the scene fainted at sight of the wreckage.

AFL Informs Lewis It Will Discuss Idea For Merging Unions

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18 (AP)—John L. Lewis said today the AFL has promised to consider his latest proposal to merge the nation's major labor unions into a single organization.

The United Mine Workers chief made public an exchange of telegrams with William Green, president of the AFL, in which Green said the AFL executive council will consider and act "at the earliest possible moment" on Lewis' proposal.

Philip Murray, president of the rival CIO and onetime aide to Lewis, has not commented yet on the plan. Lewis, Green and Murray all have sponsored unity moves in the past but nothing has come of them.

The latest move was started by Green Monday when he said at the AFL convention that he would like to see a unified labor movement.

Lewis took up the suggestion immediately. He said unions could achieve unity by Oct. 15 if they would only sit down with a will to do so.

GREEN'S OFF-the-cuff comment then was that Lewis himself has been a great disrupter and divider of American labor.

Lewis took his mine workers out of the AFL in 1935 to help set up the CIO. Later he clashed with Murray and bolted the CIO. The UMW was independent for some time, but then rejoined the AFL only to quit it again. It is now an independent organization.

Green's message to Lewis said the whole unity matter has been referred to the AFL's executive council and that Lewis will be "advised promptly" of any council decision.

"Millions of members of organized labor," Lewis wired Green, "will earnestly hope that you will have some luck with the members of the executive council on the momentous question of unity."

Papers to Contribute For Own Campaigns

NEW YORK, Sept. 18 (AP)—American newspapers are expected to contribute one and a half million dollars worth of advertising space in the next 12 months to a campaign plugging their own business.

Plans for continuation of a newspaper advertising campaign begun the past year were announced today by the American Newspaper Publishers association (ANPA). Aim of the drive is to promote the newspaper as a medium for news and advertising.

Frieden's Union Sunday school had their regular meeting last night. Jack Weitzel president had charge of the meeting.

62 boys and girls enrolled as members of the chapel choir of St. John's Lutheran, Sumneytown, at their first rehearsal this Fall. An invitation is extended to all boys and girls of kindergarten and school age to become members.

The women of the Church of St. John's Lutheran sponsored a delightful hat and covered dish social in the pavilion recently.

Lee E. Angstadt spent the weekend with his brother, Gene A. Angstadt, New York city. Lee will begin his second year at Muhlenberg college this week.

The Sumneytown Lutheran parish Luther league will meet Sunday at 7:30 p.m. in St. John's Lutheran church. William Snyder, Charles Hartzell and Elmer Reiter will have charge of the program.

Frieden's Union primary department will sponsor an oyster supper in the pavilion on Saturday, Sept. 27, from 4 to 9 p.m. Oysters will be served in all styles.

There are 56,107 farms in Maryland.

Obituaries

EDWARD WILLIAMS, 74, husband of the late Louisa (Jaeger) Williams, formerly of North Evans street, died early yesterday morning in Lakeland hospital, CAMDEN, N. J.

Mr. Williams was a former employee of the Pottstown hospital.

The only known survivor is a sister-in-law, Mrs. Fred (Jaeger) Aschman, Merchantville, N. J.

Funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock from a funeral home at 241 First Avenue, Phoenixville.

Interment will be made in Norris cemetery, Phoenixville.

Funeral services for ESTELLA H. HAINES, wife of Jerome Haines, GLEN MOORE RD. 1, were held yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Nantmeal Methodist church. The Rev. D. C. Dahms, pastor of the church, officiated.

Bearers were Edgar Strickland, George Mohn, Paul Mohn, Warren Gordon, Clair McAfee and Karl and Karl Garvine.

Premier of Israel Confronted by Crisis

JERUSALEM, Sept. 18 (AP)—Two Israeli religious parties tonight confronted Premier David Ben-Gurion with a cabinet crisis by announcing their withdrawal from his coalition government.

The Agudat Yisrael and Poalei Agudat Israel had only one joint representative in the cabinet, and only five seats in the 120-member Knesset (Parliament). However, without their votes, Ben-Gurion's Government will control only 60 votes, one short of the majority needed to pass bills.

His life was gentle, and the elements so mix'd up in him, that Nature might stand up and say to all the world, "This was a man!"—William Shakespeare's Julius Caesar.

Burying the Issue

A number of highly placed government officials have been forecasting that prices may soon start soaring again.

Thus, they say, is the fault of Congress, which heavily cut OPS' operating budget and made some changes in the price control laws in order to limit OPS' powers.

It is quite obvious that these officials would like nothing more than another dose of runaway inflation—the theory that this would assure the indefinite continuance of price controls and create a multitude of jobs and votes.

So it must have been galling to them to read yesterday's report that the wholesale food index recorded its sharpest decline in three years.

On the other hand, a few top men take a different view.

Thus, Secretary of Commerce Sawyer recently said that "major price increases are not indicated for the balance of this year."

In any event—and regardless of whether prices go up or down or stand still—all the talk about price levels obscures the real issue.

That issue is simply this: Will we have a free, supply and demand economy—the kind of economy that has given us living standards unparalleled anywhere else—or will we have a politically-controlled economy of the kind that has brought waste and near-bankruptcy to nation after nation?

History has proven, with unvarying regularity, that when economic freedom disappears, all the other freedoms are undermined and they too eventually disappear.

If government can command the productive and distributive resources of this country, it can bend us all to its will.

It can make us the subjects of the state, with no alternative save to follow orders.

This is the way the road is opened to dictatorship and tyranny.

Whether price stabilization is a dodge to obtain more Federal workers, a survey in Washington showed no matter who wins Nov. 4, no more than a few thousand heads will roll among the 2,570,000 civilian government jobholders.

This is contrary to popular impression, fortunately for the continued functioning of the vast and intricate federal machinery.

The overwhelming majority of federal employees of all ranks are under civil service and their politics have nothing to do with their holding their jobs. They are people of widely varying beliefs who are making a career of federal service. Any notion that the army of government workers votes en masse for the party in power may make good campaign oratory, but it is not true.

A new administration would be very foolish to fire any great number of employees even if it were able to do so. For one thing, new ones are hard to come by in these days of high employment and pay in private business and industry. And you can't, for example, pick up atomic energy technicians among deserving premet workers.

Civil service itself has not been the unimpaired blessing anticipated by early reformers. People are human and relatively complete job security does not bring out their best competitive performance. Its great value has been to attract a reasonably high quality of federal employee and hold him.

Government has become enormously complicated since invention of the spoils system. Even if it could be greatly decentralized and streamlined, something much to be desired, it would still be enormous and complicated. The old battle cry of "turn the rascals out" probably never was fair. As a political slogan today, it is not only unfair but meaningless except for a few top officials.

Federal Share Exorbitant

States which have an individual income tax payers inevitably compare Federal and State taxes.

State income taxes range from a low 1% on the first bracket of taxable income all the way up to 15% on taxable income over $15,000 in North Dakota. Top rates in other states are 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, or 10%.

By contrast the Federal income tax starts at 22 2/3% on the first bracket of taxable income and ranges up to 45%. The difference in State and Federal rates explains in part why the big band of big Federal government is swelling by tens of thousands of men collected from American citizens.

READERS SAY:

Corner-Turning Cowboys Confuse Him

Where You Going?

To the Editor: One of the things that that gets my goat when I drive in the borough is the way many cars turn corners.

Almost invariably when a driver wants to make a right turn he pulls all the way to the left of the road so he can make a wide swing around the corner and not exert himself by turning the wheel sharply.

This can be dangerous because he usually slows down to a slow crawl and any cars behind him try to guess what he intends to do.

A faster moving vehicle behind him may be tempted to pass him on the left only to find out suddenly that the car in front was not making a right turn but a left turn.

Of course the person who attempted to pass is legally in the wrong, but in my estimation the auto making the wide-swing turn is the person who should be prosecuted.

People who turn corners by swinging first to one side of the road and then the other probably do so with the idea that anyone in back of them will stop.

WASHINGTON Political Lawyers Add To Washington Scandals

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—The Chelf committee investigating Department of Justice scandals has been looking into the mysterious operations of Washington's horde of political lawyers. The findings have been almost as spectacular as the Caudle-McGrath disclosures, although not so productive as yet.

The preliminary study should make Candidates Eisenhower and Stevenson think twice about promising to mop up the "mess at Washington" overnight. To root out the system of "organized influence" at Washington, unethical but not actually illegal, will be no sleight-of-hand task after 20 years of one-party rule, and the appalling expansion and power of the Federal bureaucracy.

These fixers, lobbyists and legislative engineers, as they are known irreverently along Pennsylvania avenue and on Capitol hill, rarely violate the law, although several prominent practitioners are now squirming under Chelf examination.

But their borderline activities, as shown by revelations of Internal Revenue, RFC, Maritime, Agriculture and Defense department deals, frequently impose heavy and unnecessary costs on the government and the general public, which pays either in higher taxes or prices.

The tribute they take from business, industry and the consumers would be defined as "squeeze" in China.

DEVIUS: Their practices are as pervasive and as devious as the sprawling government's vast operations necessitate. They know how to manipulate the vast federal machine which, as erstwhile key mechanics in the Roosevelt-Truman Administrations, they helped to fabricate.

They enable individual or corporate clients to "see the right people." They open side or back doors to officialdom. They wheedle reduction of a tax liability, even when underworld figures condemned by the Kefauver Crime committee are involved.

They facilitate the purchase of "surplus" ships and resell them for huge profits. They buy "obsolete" defense equipment at bargain rates, and turn it back to the Army, Navy or Air Force at fantastic prices. They finger the flaws and weaknesses in laws and regulations which they wrote and administered before they quit the public service for the private good.

SELECT: They are a select lot, envied by lawyers on the outside looking in as the legal elite of the capital. They never handle relatively unremunerative cases requiring their appearances in court. They prefer the field known as "administrative law," which is whatever their bureaucratic friends and pals say it is.

The legion of legal friends of official friends includes former White House secretaries, ghost writers and brain trusters. It also consists of former sub-cabinet members, Congressional "lame ducks," relatives of elected and appointed officials, retired generals, admirals, colonels and commodores, one-time commissioners on the SEC, AAA, CAR, FTC, FCC, etc.

Before Chicago, 1932, to recall, Jim Farley's famous phrase, few of them knew enough about the law or government to serve as a pace boy in House or Senate.

Lawyers have always quit Congress or federal agencies to capitalize on their acquired knowledge and experience. "Lame ducks" from Coolidge-Harding days still pitter around the departments, although their pickings are lean because they don't belong to the Roosevelt-Truman "closed shop."

But the system never became so organized and well-knit until Uncle Sam began to cover so much ground that, as like charges, he virtually "washes the housewives' dishes."

Corner-Turning Cowboys Confuse Him

Where You Going?

Others, from what I have seen, are not doing anything they think is wrong because they honestly believe they are turning the corner as close to the curb as possible.

Those exceptions are usually tiny people in big cars. They can hardly see the ground less than a dozen yards in front of the hood. A couple of pillows on the seat would do the job for them so they could see where they are going.

Most persons, however, just don't care how they make their turns. They don't signal, they don't look in their rear view mirrors and they don't stick to their own side of the road.

I repeat: most persons, not just many. Pottstown BEWILDERED

Two-Pronged Dilemma

To the Editor: That was quite a story The Mercury had on its sports page the other day, about how the Russians have distorted the great game of baseball.

It proves that the USSR is doing everything it can, through its very effective propaganda machinery to turn the minds of its people against us.

But the story makes me wonder how pure we are.

The Voice of Broadway

By DOROTHY KILGALLEN

(Dorothy Kilgallen is on vacation. Her guest columnist today is Yul Brynner, star of "The King and I.")

Yul Brynner Writes:

EVERYONE WANTS to be on the inside—to peek behind the scenes. Since that long ago day of the first rumor, a common human trait has been the aching desire to be in the know. What wouldn't we give to learn what the star says to the cast when the curtain rolls down, to understand the why of the rash of smiles during a certain scene. I intend to reveal a bit of the drama that takes place within a play, the amusing and sometimes tragic incidents that the audience never sees even though it is being acted out in front of them.

Of course, the most important thing to an actor is the most important thing to anyone else—his meal money. When Mary Martin and I were playing in "Lute Song," I was first on-stage and one of my lines was "there are 10,000 volumes." This turned out to be my cue to Mary as to the size of the house.

If the house were only half-full, I'd say "there are 5,000 volumes." The percentage grandly divided until the last night when I remarked sadly "there is only one volume." Since then, Mary and I have enjoyed many a hearty laugh over our little trick but believe me it wasn't at all funny then.

COURAGE IS a tradition behind the footlights and never more firmly upheld than by Gertrude Lawrence. This happened during the shake-down period before "The King and I" opened on Broadway. We were on the road and going through the perpetual rewriting and restaging that is the inevitable part of these periods.

There's always a surprise with them. After curtain call one night, some of the Red Sox came back and I met George Kell. There was the customary exchange of greetings and Kell suddenly blurted, "That death scene, Yul. You were great. You died like a living doll!"

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

TOMMY J., 11, has been the despair of his school teacher.

"Dr. Crane, I am at my wit's end," his long suffering teacher confessed.

"Tommy is a bright boy but he causes me more mischief than all the other 34 pupils in my room."

"He teases the girls till he makes them cry. He picks on the other boys and starts fights."

"He seems to be restless and unhappy. I've had to send him to the principal's office twice this week, and that's about average for Tommy."

"What else can I do with him? Or is he just destined for naughtiness and later delinquency?"

So I urged Tommy's teacher to use the Compliment club technique on him regarding his good qualities and try to overlook some of his naughtiness for the next day or two.

THEN, WHEN she had Tommy's confidence, schedule a long heart to heart talk with him.

She agreed, and began following this prescription at once. The following day she asked him to stay and help her clean the blackboards.

Then they had the heart talk. And she learned that Tommy felt unwanted and unloved. His parents were divorced. He vaguely resented the apparent happiness of other members of his class at school.

So, when he was most hungry for affection, he would be most naughty!

That seems paradoxical, but it's the way people often behave. For when he was feeling low and unloved, he would feel envious of his classmates.

THEN HE would grow angry at their greater enjoyment of life. So he would try to whittle them down to an inferior level.

If he could make them cry, then his deflated ego began to swell up. For a bully is usually a person with an inferiority complex. When he picks on other folks and makes them cry, this makes him feel superior.

So his teacher enfolded Tommy, along with herself, in the Compliment club. Just the two of them were to be in it at the outset.

This new strategy worked wonders. For Tommy felt included in a closer companionship with his teacher. It inflated his ego to be in a secret alliance which the other kids didn't know about.

After all, he had some and heard many stories about millions of people starving in Russia, dying in slave labor camps and other yarns that are suspiciously like the atrocity stories that swamped us during World Wars I and II.

Both sides, I would say, are guilty of distortions, at least, and possibly of outright lies.

And both had better wise up, before atom bombs, hydrogen bombs, microbe bombs, poison gases and other modern horrors wipe out the greater part of both the American and Russian populations.

Stowe FAIR-MINDED

Better Things Ahead

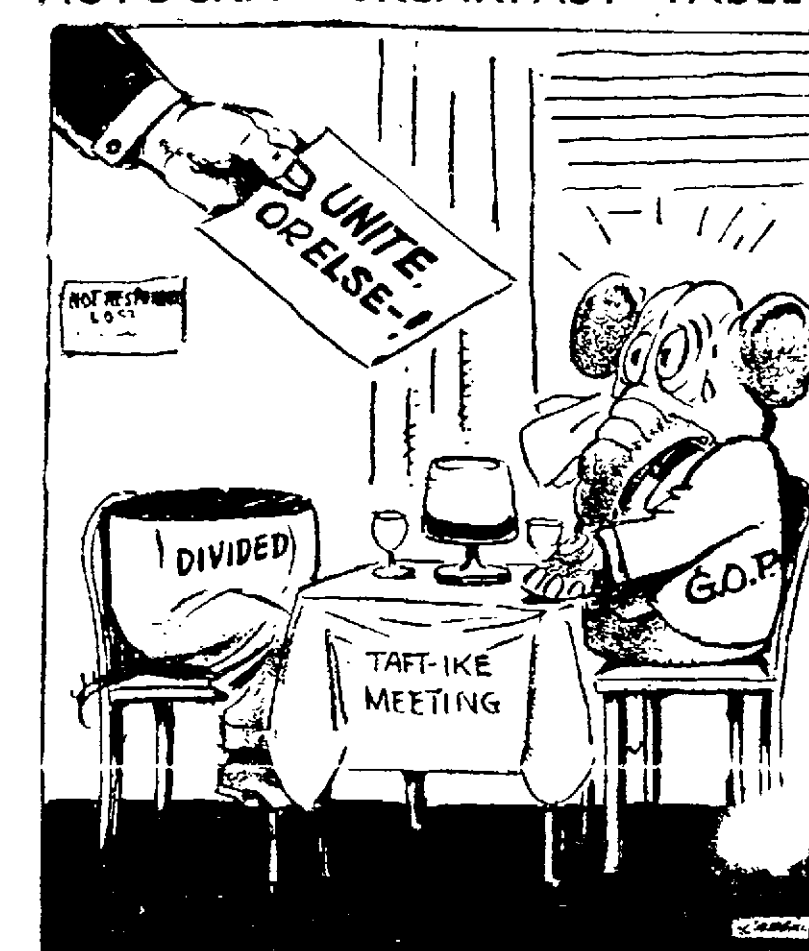

To the Editor: With all these children compelling to get on the school safety patrols, I hope we can look forward to safe drivers and cautious pedestrians ten years from now.

It's a good sign if these kids take safety seriously now.

In the future, I can only hope they'll do better than my generation in driving with moderation and consideration.

Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 18.—Jack Haley skips the cattle business to return to the supper saloons, opening at El Rancho Vegas this week. That's old stuff for Haley, but it's a new venture for Edward Arnold when he heads his own review at the Last Frontier starting this weekend. Also this week Buddy Rogers heads a troupe taking off on a 21 day tour of hospitals in Korea. Nothing but rave reports on the telepic.

Jack Haley series that's almost ready for Edward G. Robinson, Senior, that is. Faith Domergue flies into town this week to start a new contract at U.I. and speaking of Faith Domergue does NOT remind me of Robert Q. Lewis's line: "Girls who wear falsies are two-time losers."

BRUCE BENNETT is realizing a long-time ambition by playing his first screen comedy role as Cary Grant's business partner in "Dream Wife" at Metro. Time fidgets: Only a hundred days till Christmas! The Advertising Women of New York have already promised 1000 gifts for Edgar Bergen's Operation Santa Claus, getting presents for the hospitalized veterans from Korea. Was it Edgar who said this? There are three ways of saying goodbye — Adieu, Adios, and Arsenic.

DICK CONTINO is doing his best to repair his "public relations" during his furlough here in Hollywood. Dick Haymes joins Jane Wyman, Aldo Ray and one male yet to be named in "Love Song" at Columbia. Ginger Rogers is due back in the states this week, minus her junior-grade French romance. Which reminds me, if you happen to want proof that Joan Crawford is an astute business woman, she hasn't been linked romantically with ANYONE since she started her exploitation tour on behalf of "Sudden Fear." After all, it's her money in the picture! Gerald Mohr has been postponing decisions on all of his N. Y. TV offers because he wanted to help out with the L. A. opening of the King Brothers Production, "The Bing." In spite of a heavy radio and TV schedule, Gerald is making more than a dozen local appearances this week in behalf of the pic. His performance as fight manager with a heart (what???) helps make it a fine movie. Fred Astaire and Cyd Charisse report to MGM today for pre-recordings of numbers in "The Band Wagon." James Mitchell plays Astaire's Broadway pal in the film.

80, Won't Quit...

Pears in Blossom...

★ EIGHTY AND ACTIVE—The Rev. Escol S. Sellers, Fricks Locks, Pottstown RD 1, 80-year-old retired Baptist pastor, is on the move in more ways than one these days. For one thing, he has sold his long-time home at Fricks Locks to Harold Diffenderfer, 1613 High street, engineer-salesman for Neapco Products incorporated. The Rev. Sellers will move more or less across the street to the home of a niece and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. R. Wayne Johnson. The minister decided to sell the home after the death of his wife the past July. For another thing, he isn't letting his age keep him from filling a pulpit whenever he is needed. He has preached at Parkerford Baptist church this Summer. Sunday he will deliver a sermon, "The Gospel of Jesus," at the 10:45 a.m. service in Pughtown Baptist church, the church where he was baptized. Rounding out his activity is his role as teacher of the Brotherhood class of the Parkerford church.

TRAVELERS—Mrs. Albert Christ-

man, Hanover Heights, left last night for Niagara Falls, N. Y., with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Berg, Woodbury, N. J. After a tour in the area of the Falls, they will spend a couple of days sight-seeing in New York City. The vacationers expect to return in about a week. Merrill Kline, 625 Spruce street, has completed a course in a Washington, D. C. radio and TV school. Another graduate was Eugene R. Pascucci, 824 High street, who took a diploma in a typewriter sales school at Poughkeepsie, N.Y. Donald J. Betz, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Betz, 419 East Race street, Stowe, is undergoing recruit training at the U. S. Naval training center, Bainbridge, Md.

★ LATE BLOSSOMS—Paul I. Mogel,

Pottstown RD 1, south of Kenilworth, and Carl Stout, Gilbertsville RD 1, both got surprised the other day when they looked out to find pear trees on their property in full bloom. Normally, the little white flowers resembling cherry blossoms bloom only in the Spring. "Must have been the hot weather," Stout commented. Mogel, who is assistant cashier of Pottstown National bank, said it was the first time he'd ever heard of such Fall blooming. And speaking of pears, the family of Emanuel Berger, Maple Gardens, has a pair of birthdays to celebrate. Mrs. Berger's birthday came on the same day on which their son was born in Pottstown hospital.

QUERY—Will a poker player please tell this column why two pairs, aces and eights, are called a "dead man's hand"? Revised definition: Absolute necessity—that which you can go without in order to make a down payment on a luxury. . . . A new type lunch box is rigged up to look just like Mother's strap purse. Wonder if any workers risk being called silly for lugging such a box. . . . It may mean a shortage, but it may also be a joyful note. It's estimated now, though, that all the minks in the country wouldn't make fur coats for more than 23,000 women.

★ BIG HELP—Science extends a ray of hope. Good for washing away radioactive dust, say the experts, is ethylene diaminetetraetic acid. So are aminotriacetic and pyrophosphoric acids, too. But, say the same experts, so is ordinary soap. . . . Slip a couple of small paper bags over your infant's hands, if you have trouble wrestling him into that snuggly. They prevent his thumbs being caught in the gussets. . . . GIVE AWAY DEPT.—Five seven-week-old kittens and mother cat, Mrs. Lloyd Lafferty, 264 Beech street, phone 43-R. . . . YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

MOST physicians and psychiatrists will tell you that breast feeding is far better for an infant than a cow's milk formula.

Healthy babies can be raised on a formula when breast feeding is undesirable for some reason, but this requires extra care, and watchfulness by parents and doctor as well.

The benefits to the mother from breast feeding are just as great as to the child. This should not be surprising, since the main function of the breast is to feed babies.

Breast feeding actually helps contract the womb after pregnancy. Many women can feel this as the "after-pains" following breast feeding. These contractions aid the female organs to return to their normal positions.

As for the babies, they are less susceptible to childhood diseases. Mother's milk contains substances that make the child immune to many diseases, just at the time when he could least resist them. After the child has been weaned, he has to be vaccinated against these diseases.

The breast-fed child usually grows better and has better general health than the bottle-fed baby. And, of course, breast feeding is more economical, and usually more convenient.

Many mothers refuse to nurse their babies, however. They have many excuses—their busy club life, community activities, or the fear of spoiling a youthful figure.

This last fear, by the way, is false and needless. Women who are concerned about their figures should speak frankly with their doctors so that he can relieve their minds on this point.

Many women feel they are too "worn out" to nurse their baby after giving birth. It is of utmost importance for these women to get plenty of rest after delivery.

Sometimes, however, this feeling of exhaustion is really mental, not physical. The mother must then be protected from disturbing situations and visitors who do more harm than good. Crowds and congratulations should wait.

The former contract provided any worker causing an unauthorized work stoppage or disruption was liable for discipline.

In the new contract the word "discharge" is spelled out. In spite of the rewording most of the union's top executives agree the new wording gives the company no privileges it did not have before.

This contract snarl will be attacked by the policy committee tonight.

The pact as approved by Buckmaster provided for 10 cents an hour wage increase, full union shop, double time for holidays worked, improved vacation set-up and other benefits.

THE INTERNATIONAL president hailed the contract as one of the finest signed with Firestone since the company and union began relations.

This past Sept. 7 Local 336 rejected the contract by a 210 to 31 count.

Because a majority of the local unions and a majority of the members of those unions must approve any firm-wide pact the reject vote by the Pottstown and Akron groups was enough to defeat the contract.

Many observers believe the only solution to the contract feud is the reopening of contract talks.

In yesterday's acclamation vote Joseph W. Childs, General Tire Local 9, Akron, Ohio, was named to his fourth term as vice president.

THE CONVENTION also named Desmond Walker, Mansfield Rubber company, Local 17, Mansfield, Ohio, to his fourth term as secretary-treasurer. Harold H. Ferguson, Local 2, Akron, had been nominated for the post, but declined to accept the nomination.

Elected to the union's executive board were:

George Froelich, Local 45, Navajo, Ark.; James Davison, Local 5, Akron; G. J. Lewis, Local 2, Akron; W. V. Cousert, Local 7, Akron; William H. Stapleton, Local 93, West Haven, Conn.; David Johnson, Local 101, Detroit; Alvin M. Phillips, Goodyear Local 307, Topeka, Kas.; Norman Allison, Local 189, Bowmanville, Ontario, Can.; Josh Tools, Local 186, Memphis, Tenn.; E. K. Bowers, Local 12, Gadsden, Ala.; James Dunn, Local 184, Wilmington, Del.; and Edward Hester, Local 154, Denver, Colo.

The delegates also adopted a resolution urging all locals of the union to make voluntary contributions to Local 113, Hamilton, Ont., which has been on strike for 16 weeks against the Firestone Tire and Rubber company.

'Sandbag Castle'

In this lonely, fire-swept "eagle's nest" along the 25th Infantry division's "Sandbag Castle" front in Korea, men of the Wolfhound (27th) regiment sit "eyeball to eyeball" with Communist positions. From within the "castle," the Wolfhounds can peer from slits into enemy positions right below them.

Countryside Tragedy

As her home in Moose Lake, Minn., is devoured by wind-whipped flames Mrs. Toge Anderson paces back and forth sobbing, "No, No, God, what will we do?" She is comforted by Walter Eldot, Duluth Herald and News-Tribune reporter. The fire, cause of which was not learned, broke out after Mrs. Anderson, mother of four, drove to town to meet her husband who was rejoining the family after working in Duluth. The house was reduced to waist-high ruins in less than an hour.

day themes is widespread under the sponsorship of Optimist clubs in other cities, this will be the first time the Pottstown organization will back the project.

PRIZES WILL be offered pupils with the most original ideas and best paintings. They will be judged by members of the club and art teachers.

Last night's meeting was "Ladies Night." The 11 women attending the affair were entertained following the dinner.

2 Monkeys Make Good Escape, Go Exploring

RICHMOND, Va., Sept. 18 (AP)—Two monkeys escaped from their cages at a dude ranch and took to the rooftops for a little exploring. Startled residents saw them flitting from roof to roof and tree to tree, and even peeking in windows.

Police officers, a detail from the dog pound and a gasoline station attendant took up the pursuit. Finally the attendant fired several shots at the monkeys with bird shot, hitting one.

The monkeys took off in opposite directions and disappeared.

UN Legion Plan Given Cold Shoulder

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Sept. 18 (AP)—Summary Committee "Lie's" pet plan for a "UN Legion" of volunteers is getting cold treatment from the United States and other members of the UN collective measures committee.

No one wants to be responsible for killing outright this project for recruiting an international force of fighting men under the organization's blue and white banner.

But informed sources indicated today the committee's annual report to the General Assembly will show no warmth for the Lie plan. The name "UN Legion" is to be discarded, though the idea will survive for further debate.

Eight Poles Put on Trial Charged With Terrorism

WARSAW, Poland, Sept. 18 (AP)—Eight Poles were brought to trial before a military court today, charged with terrorist acts prompted by Voice of America broadcasts.

The defendants—six men and two women—were accused of fatally shooting Stefan Martyka, star performer on "Wavelength 49," a Polish radio program designed to counteract the Voice of America and other such broadcasts from the West.

The defendants were charged with listening daily to the Voice, which "inspired them and encouraged them to criminal activities."

State Department Gels Demands From Group

ABILENE, Tex., Sept. 18 (AP)—Members of north and west Texas and New Mexico congregations of the Church of Christ today called on the State department to demand that the Italian Government see that their missionaries in Italy are treated as "American citizens."

The decision came during oral camel caravan.

TWO DESERTERS JOIN U. S. ARMY

Russian, Czechoslovak To Fight, If Necessary, For Homeland Liberation

SONTHOFEN, Germany, Sept. 18.—A Soviet Air Force sergeant and a Czechoslovak infantryman—deserters from the armed forces of the Communist bloc—joined the U. S. Army today to fight, if necessary, for liberation of their homelands.

Arkady Rudovsky, 24-year-old native of Odessa, solemnly swore to defend the United States "against all enemies" and added, "I hope that some day I can go back to Russia and make it a free country."

Czech-born Karl Kares, 27, declared his American Army induction put him "in the place to be most useful."

"We have to fight against this evil of dictatorship and we can't fight only with words," the serious-faced recruit stated. "Sometimes we must act."

RISKING EXECUTION as traitors if they are ever caught by the authorities of their native lands, the Russian and Czech shared the induction ceremonies with a Bulgarian, Stefan Keratschkoff, 24.

Unlike the other two, however, Keratschkoff was not a military deserter. He was honorably discharged from the Bulgarian air force in 1946, but fled to the West three years later.

The Voice of America recorded interviews with Rudovsky and Kares for broadcast in five languages to Soviet-controlled eastern Europe. The U. S. Army invited reporters, photographers and radio-men to Sonthofen for the event.

The open-door publicity marked an about-face in American policy on putting deserters from Red forces into U. S. uniform.

Now, regardless of reprisal threats they may come from Moscow, the Army is frankly embarked on a campaign to rearm fugitive Soviet bloc troops who can prove they are not planted spies.

Under the alien enlistment program which tentatively began over a year ago, there are places for 1,500 Eastern Europeans in the U. S. Army. Citizens of any NATO power or nation receiving Marshall Plan aid are barred by law.

The past March the first Russian military deserter was inducted here, but the Army cloaked it in secrecy. Since then, Defense and State department experts have restudied the whole matter and agreed to give maximum publicity to the enlistment of deserters.

The Russian, Czech and Bulgarian today raised alien enlistments to only 392, although 6,000 have applied. Seven hundred applications are still being processed. The program continues until 1955.

Rudovsky, who escaped from a Soviet Air Force regiment in Austria in 1951 and then worked in Frankfurt as a mechanic for Pan American Air Lines until he was accepted by the Army, told interviewers:

"At first I could not understand why they kept us Soviet troops (in Austria) cooped up behind barbed wire, never letting us go beyond the limits of our military units.

"They (Soviet leaders) were afraid that we would discover the conspiracy of the colossal lie on which Soviet power rests.

"Corruption of officials is widespread in Russia. The majority of the Communist party members and officials resort to some kind of illegal work to earn extra money.

"The Russian people spend at least a sixth of their family incomes for bread alone. The war damage in Russia has not been made good. It has been merely hidden behind wooden fences.

"I discovered that people in Austria, which lost the war, lived better than people in Russia, which won the war.

"On a home leave in January, 1951, I found stores empty and hezzy, hunger and drabness all around me."

Bail Posted by Man In Auto Crash Case

A Pottstown area man posted $500 bail yesterday for court appearance on charges of driving while he was drunk and while his license was under suspension.

He was Edwin R. DeHaven, 39, Elverson RD. 1, who was arrested by Paoli State Trooper Harry J. Bullock after the week's second accident along Route 109 near Kirkwood park.

DeHaven was driving north on the highway late Wednesday night when his big 1948 coupe collided with a southbound truck driven by Bennett A. Melcher, Bally.

Damage to the coupe was estimated at $500; to the truck, $300. No one was injured.

Bonds ARE SOLD

HARRISBURG, Sept. 18.—The Pennsylvania Turnpike commission today sold 65 million dollars worth of tax-exempt revenue bonds to finance its 33-mile Delaware River extension.

Girl, 5, Hurt in Fall, Has Arm Set in Cast

A 5-year-old girl was treated for a fractured left wrist at Memorial hospital dispensary yesterday afternoon after she fell from her tricycle.

Garnet Lane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. LaVerne F. Lane, 255 Walnut street, was given treatment at the dispensary at 1:40 p. m. A light cast was applied to her arm and she was discharged.

Canada's average yield per acre of tobacco in 1951 was 1293 pounds.

Underwriters to Aid In Civic Problems

Pottstown Association of Life Underwriters decided yesterday to turn its attention as a group from specialized problems of the profession to broad civic interests.

At the suggestion of A. Eugene Smith, program chairman, meetings this season will be addressed by representative leaders of local government, industry, press and labor, rather than by members of the group speaking on technical insurance problems.

The association adopted a proposal that it would offer its services, as a group, for any work asked of it by the United Fund.

The meeting attended by approximately 25 members, was held at noon in Brookside Country club, in charge of William E. Leiser, president.

Adhesive and medicated plasterment of X-rays from their discovery was invented in 1848 by a Dedham, Mass., physician, John P. May, illustrated his talk by projecting on a screen actual X-ray photographs of the fluid brushed on the skin and body covered with cotton strips.

X-ray Expert Heard By Pottstown Rotary

Pottstown's Rotary club, by James A. Griffiths, radiologist, at Memorial hospital.

Dr. Griffiths traced the development of X-rays from their discovery to present day usage.

Heference, urged a large representation from Pottstown at the conference scheduled at Kutztown, Oct. 4, 5.

LATEST SEWING FEATURES

THAT MAKE SEWING EASIER, FASTER and BETTER THAN EVER

EASIER BECAUSE —

● 4 Point Feed guides your stitching straight and true, with just gentle guiding up to the needle ● Big set of attachments provides special decorative touches and labor-saving short cuts ● Sewlight puts illumination on your sewing right at the needle-point where it is needed most.

FASTER BECAUSE —

● Hinged Presser Foot enables you to sew right over pins thus eliminating basting time ● Automatic Bobbin Winder properly fills bobbin and automatically releases it when completely filled ● Forward and Reverse Sewing — a quick way to back-stitch seam ends, reinforce corners without stopping machine.

BETTER BECAUSE —

● Dial Tension Control — for accurate tension adjustment ● Revolving Spool Pins keep threads from getting tangled or broken ● Wide Underarm Space gives you working freedom when stitching drapes or curtains ● Stitch Length Regulator—you can set the control and be assured of the right stitch for every garment.
